YOUNG COWBOY GETS THE NEEDLE

Sean Yarbrough, kindergarten pupil at Sausalito's Central School, wore a hat big enough for a TV cowboy as he reported for his tuberculin skin test this morning. The hand jabbing the needle is that of Dr. Charma Perry of Sausalito. Children in all grades and all schools of the Sausalito Elementary School District today received the injections under a program sponsored by the school district and Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. Sean is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen R. Yarbrough of 71 Woodland Avenue.

Judge Denies Ruby Acquittal; Jurors Called

Belli Declares Rooms Bugged, Phone Tapped

DALLAS (UPI)—Defense lawyers vainly sought a direct verdict of acquittal at the start of Jack Ruby's murder trial today and then lost a bid to have jurors searched as a precaution against "the climate of Dallas."

Rejecting the defense demands, Judge Joe B. Brown called in a panel of 150 prospective jurors for questioning behind locked doors. He ordered 10 to return for further questioning and 100 were told to report back tomorrow morning. Fifteen women were excused.

Chief Defense Attorney Melvin Belli charged outside the court that "our (hotel) rooms have been bugged, our briefcases gone through and our telephones tapped."

RUBY SMILING

But he said he was sure his room was not "bugged" now with any eavesdropping device.

Ruby, smiling cheerfully, entered the court through a little green door and took a seat at the defense table, where he intently studied the names of would-be jurors.

The defense asked Brown for a verdict of acquittal on grounds Ruby suffers "organic brain damage" and psychomotor epilepsy, which causes "blackouts." The defense argued the 52-year-old slayer of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald was innocent on those grounds.

ALL SEARCHED

Brown rejected the motion and another motion that Ruby should be freed on grounds of double jeopardy.

All spectators and newsmen entering the room were frisked for weapons. The defense demanded that members of the jury panel be submitted to the same thorough search by deputies and court matrons.

"Jurors must be searched to show the climate of Dallas," Belli said, as part of the defense contention that Dallas cannot give Ruby a fair trial through fear and animosity.

"This is the court's business, not the business of the defense," said Asst. Dist. Atty. A. D. (Jim) Bowie. The court agreed.

Court Holds Equal Poll Is Required For House

Dissent Says Most Seats In Jeopardy

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a landmark decision, the Supreme Court held today that "equal representation for equal numbers of people" is the constitution's objective for the U.S. House of Representatives.

The decision was 6-2, with Justice Tom C. Clark concurring in part and dissenting in part.

Fair Weather Brings Rash Of Accidents

Fair weather brought out Sunday motorists in Marin yesterday, and along with them a rash of accidents.

Twelve persons were injured in accidents investigated by the California Highway Patrol.

Four were injured in a two-car head-on crash yesterday at 6:35 p.m. on Shoreline Highway near Five Brooks, four and one-half miles south of Olema.

A car driven by Ruth H. Williges, 56, of Oakland was passing one driven north by Elbert Lee Keith, 30, of San Francisco and met head-on a southbound auto driven by Richard William Corless, 33, of Mountain View, Santa Clara County, the highway patrol reported.

Mrs. Williges was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with head injuries. Her husband, John, 65, a passenger in the car, was also in good condition at the same hospital with a broken jaw, as was Corless, with multiple cuts and bruises. Corless' wife, Valerie, 22, was in only fair condition with multiple cuts and bruises.

Steven Alpine, 20, and Barry Kael, 19, both of San Francisco were treated for cuts at San

Dissenting all-out, Justice John Marshall Harlan said only 37 members of the present House meet the requirements outlined today. He argued that the majority decision "places in jeopardy the seats of almost all the members." The House has a total of 435 seats.

FOR MAJORITY

Justice Hugo L. Black spoke for the majority, and was joined by Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Arthur J. Goldberg. Harlan wrote the main dissenting opinion, and was joined by Justice Potter Stewart.

The vehicle for the sweeping ruling was a Georgia case in which Atlanta citizens complained that the state's congressional districts were unfair and should be revamped. A lower court dismissed the case. This dismissal was reversed today and the case was sent back to Georgia, presumably for action in the light of the high tribunal's ruling.

Justice Black, delivering the majority opinion, said federal courts have authority to look into congressional districting.

'NOT POSSIBLE'

"While it may not be possible to draw congressional districts with mathematical precision," Black said, "that is no excuse for ignoring our Constitution's plain objective of making equal representation for equal numbers of people the fundamental goal for the House of Representatives."

Justice Harlan, in a dissenting opinion, wrote:

"I had not expected to witness the day when the Supreme Court of the United States would render a decision which casts grave doubt on the constitutionality of the composition of the House of Representatives."

"It is not an exaggeration to say that such is the effect of today's decision. The court's holding that the Constitution requires states to select representatives either by elections at large or by elections in districts composed 'as nearly as is practicable' of equal population places in jeopardy the seats of almost all the members of the

Five Eliminated From New County Grand Jury List

Five prospective grand jurors for 1964 were eliminated today by the first drawing of names from the jury list by Marin County Clerk George H. Gnos.

Names of 25 possible jurors were drawn from a total 30 names submitted in Marin Superior Court by Judge Thomas F. Keating. Those who were eliminated were:

Hugh Cassidy, San Rafael post office employee and labor official; Robert M. Clark, Mill Valley, accountant; Alden L. Stock, Kentfield, business executive; Frank Bosl, Sausalito, bank manager, and Jack H. Stockstill, Inverness, contractor.

Remaining prospective jurors will report to Department 1 of superior court Friday at 4:30 p.m., where the final 19 names will be drawn for the new grand jury.

Heavy Safe Carted Out But Not Away

Burglars toted a heavy steel safe out the front door of Graphic Arts of Marin in Sausalito yesterday but either found the safe too heavy to hoist or were frightened away.

The safe, which co-owner Bernard Moss said today held a small amount of petty cash and some important papers, was not tampered with, and nothing was taken from the printing firm.

Moss said that he was especially angered because this was the third time someone had broken into the shop through the same rear window, shattering glass onto ink rollers of the press. The glass is very difficult to pick out of the rollers by tweezers, he said.

Moss, who lives at 338 Starling Road, Mill Valley, said burglars used his shop hand truck to wheel the 16-by-17 inch safe out the front door. It was left on the truck about five feet from the door. Mrs. Moss reported the burglary at 10:20 a.m. yesterday to police.

Lucille Kaminsky of 11 Marine Street, Sausalito, owner of the antique shop, Kit and Kaboodle, at 21 Princess Street, told police at 11 a.m. Saturday that someone had broken a window in the front door of her shop, forced a hinge from a padlock, opened a spring lock, and entered the shop, stealing $15 to $18 from a cash box.

Nothing else was taken or disturbed, Miss Kaminsky said.

San Rafael Man Hurt In Crash

Richard Lee Sexton, 21, of 71 Ridge Avenue, San Rafael, suffered minor chin cuts at 2:50 a.m. today when his car struck a power pole in the 1300 block of Grand Avenue.

He was treated at San Rafael General Hospital. He told officers his vehicle's accelerator stuck.

Sub Fires Rocket 1,500 Miles

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The USS James Monroe, the Navy's 14th missile carrying submarine, today fired a Polaris A-2 rocket on a successful 1,500-mile flight.

The missile climbed to the ocean's surface ahead of a column of steam and streaked into the clear blue sky. Minutes later, its instrumented war head landed in a mid-Atlantic target area to the southeast.

It was the nation's second missile launch today. The Air Force fired a Titan-2 ICBM on a 5,000-mile shot earlier at the Pacific missile testing center at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Ethiopia, Somalia Clash

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI)—Ethiopia charged last night that Somalia violated a cease-fire along their disputed border and heavy fighting broke out in two sectors.

The truce was arranged at the request of the organization for African Unity which met last week in Tanganyika to discuss the border war and other African trouble spots.

Ethiopian foreign minister Keteme Yifru charged that "Somalia action" broke the truce and said his government was no longer responsible for maintaining it.

Pro-Westerner Wins In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (UPI)—Staunch pro-Western George Papandreu, who favors a peaceful settlement with Turkey of the Cyprus problem, swept to a landslide victory today in Greece's second election in three months.

Sources close to the 76-year-old Center Union Party leader said his paramount concern as new head of government would be to avoid any clash with Turkey over Cyprus which would harm the NATO alliance.

The landslide proportions of the Liberal victory were unexpected and ushered in a radically new Greek political situation. The conservatives mainly have run the country since the end of World War II.

The 18-year-old Sacramento City College student became the seventh winner of the title at a midnight judging contest Saturday. She will be crowned at a ball on Friday.

As to the rest of her dimensions, "I think they are 37-23-26," she told a news conference yesterday.

Miss Leong edged out 17 other contestants.

Snow Storm Hits Angeles Forest Area

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Heavy winds that brought snow to the mountain areas and wrought havoc in the lowlands yesterday were expected to diminish today.

About 160 Boy Scouts were stranded for a while in the Angeles National Forest when their cars were unable to move through new-fallen snow on dirt roads yesterday.

Between two and three inches of snow halted the cars as the Scouts were en route from an encampment 35 miles north of Pasadena. Some walked to the nearby Angeles Crest Highway and others were brought out by rangers in vehicles with four-wheel drive.

Snow was reported blowing down to the 3,000-foot level in some mountain areas.

Small craft warnings flew on the coast from Monterey to the Mexican border. And in some inland areas wind gusts of up to 60 miles per hour were reported.

Because of high winds campers were banned from the San Bernardino Freeway between Ontario and Fontana, and Riverside Municipal Airport was closed to all flying yesterday morning.

Mrs. Ann Stewart, 67, of Azusa was critically injured when a eucalyptus branch downed by the wind fell on her head.

Gusty winds set off at least 100 burglar alarms in Los Angeles County.

Four to six inches of new snow fell on the slopes at Big Bear. A like amount fell on Mount Laguna in San Diego County. Randsburg, in the desert near the San Bernardino-Kern County line, had a freak snowfall of two inches.

Palm Springs and Boron reported almost .20 of an inch of rain in one hour.

NATIVE HELD IN VIETNAM BOMBING

Three Americans Killed, 51 Wounded As Terrorists Blow Up Theater In Saigon

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—South Vietnamese police held a wounded ricksha driver today as a prime suspect in the bombing of a U.S. movie theater.

Three Americans were killed and 51 Americans—including women and children—were wounded yesterday in the latest anti-American violence in Saigon. Nine Vietnamese also were injured.

One of the dead was a military policeman who was shot while standing guard outside the theater. Another was a Marine Corps captain who was crushed under falling debris as he ran inside to warn the theater's 500 patrons.

The body of the third American was so badly mangled identification was delayed.

Vietnam ordered security measures tightened to protect American personnel in the capital from terrorism by the Communist Viet Cong. On Feb. 9, two bombs exploded under the bleachers of a softball field near Saigon Airport, killing two U.S. enlisted men and injuring 23 other Americans.

Although police declined to discuss the ricksha boy's suspected role in the bombing, the shooting and blast apparently were the work of a highly skilled terrorist team.

Witnesses saw at least two terrorists. They said one shot the military policeman at close range. Another hurried into the theater with a canvas satchel. A third man—or woman—may have been involved.

A U.S. military spokesman said the lone Vietnamese civil policeman on duty outside the theater was seen pedaling away on a bicycle shortly before the attack.

The MP was killed by a single bullet through the neck. At least three shots were heard, however, indicating the soldier may have got off some shots.

Oakland Train-Car Collision Kills 3

OAKLAND (AP)—An Oakland couple and a neighbor child died and four other children were hurt in an auto-train collision as the family set out on a Saturday afternoon shopping trip.

Santos Maldonado, 27, and his wife, Carmen, 23, died in the collision of their station wagon and an 83-car Southern Pacific freight train at the 34th avenue grade crossing.

Susan McGrath, 12, who lived in the other half of the duplex occupied by the Maldonados, died later at a hospital.

Some snakes have been known to live from one to two years without food by absorbing the fat of their own bodies.

McNamara, LeMay Row On Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress reportedly has received contradictory testimony on the reliability of missiles from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis LeMay.

Informed sources on Capitol Hill report that the two, in secret testimony before the House Armed Services Committee, differed not only in their general estimates of reliability but in the specific figures they cited as evidence.

Differences between McNamara and LeMay could have potential political repercussions. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has raised the question of missile reliability during his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

'MORE BOMBERS'

Goldwater, a major general in the Air Force Reserve, has challenged the reliability of missiles and called for more funds for manned bombers. This evidently was the position taken by LeMay and rejected by McNamara before the House committee.

More light on the controversy may be shed tomorrow when the committee releases a transcript of the hearings that were held for two weeks beginning Jan. 27.

The transcript, however, will be censored by the Department of Defense. It is conceivable that figures on the reliability of missiles—if deemed classified—would be deleted.

LeMay Heeded

Most members of the committee evidently were more impressed by LeMay's figures than by those of McNamara, for they added 92 million dollars to the defense authorization bill for development of a new manned interceptor plane.

McNamara did not ask for this. But, according to the official report of the committee, LeMay did.

A minority of the committee, however, did agree with McNamara. One of them, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, (D-N.Y.), has received permission to file a minority report with the House by midnight tonight.

California YR's Back Goldwater

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The California Young Republicans say Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater is the man they want for President of the United States.

And attorney John A. Gromala, 34, of Fortuna is the new president of their 14,000 member group.

They made both choices yesterday.

Visit By Johnson, Humphrey To Keep State Demos Busy

What's To Happen In Contest For Engle's Seat Remains A Mystery

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A busy week opened for California Democrats today, keyed to the 1964 campaign and enlivened by uncertainty over the race for the U.S. Senate.

Before it becomes another week that we, the party and the state will have:

Hosted Lyndon B. Johnson's first visit to California since becoming president.

Taken a five-day look at Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), rated a strong bet to wind up as Johnson's running mate.

Found out whether the California Democratic Council, the party's 75,000-member club movement, is going to endorse anyone for the senate, and if so, whom.

President Lyndon B. Johnson arrives in Palm Springs Thursday. He plans to fly to Los Angeles Friday and return to Palm Springs with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos for conferences.

Humphrey will address a number of meetings and huddle with prominent Democrats between Thursday and next Monday, all in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

An estimated 7,000 delegates, alternates and visitors are expected to gather in Long Beach Friday for the three-day state convention of the California Democratic Council—the CDC.

A list of speakers has been issued, and it doesn't include the name of Sen. Clair Engle. This has increased speculation that the ailing Democratic incumbent will not appear.

Engle himself indicated that he would miss the CDC affair in a letter to friends postmarked Feb. 14. He appealed for campaign support but wrote: "My work in the senate, fighting to support and pass the administration's program, especially in the fields of civil rights, foreign relations and domestic policy, makes it difficult for me to leave Washington at this time."

The 52-year-old senator has told political associates that he is making steady progress in recovering from brain surgery last August. But ranking state Democrats insist his condition won't permit him to campaign actively.

Rep. James Roosevelt already has launched a drive to win the CDC endorsement for the senate.

The two leading Democratic contenders are standing by to see what develops—mainly whether Engle will withdraw from the contest.

They are Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk and Controller Alan Cranston. Mosk has been up front in the polls. But Cranston has a strong CDC following as the 1954 founding president of the volunteer organization.

Retain Rumford Act, King Says

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. says repeal of California's Rumford Act would "be one of the most shameful developments in our nation's history."

Speaking last night at an installation banquet for the Consolidated Realty Board of Los Angeles, the national civil rights leader said powerful forces were working to repeal the bill authored by Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley), who was at the banquet.

"If this happens," said Dr. King, "the nation would be set back, civil rights would be set back and the cause of democracy in the country would be set back."

Lagunitas School Tax Group Forms

Robert Lea of Lagunitas was elected chairman of the Committee for the Lagunitas School Tax at the committee's first session ending at the school. Mrs. Audrey Miller of Woodacre was elected treasurer, and Mrs. Nancy Miller of Lagunitas, secretary.

The committee will coordinate and implement efforts to pass a 65-cent increase in the school district's general purpose tax rate, to be voted upon April 14. Thursday is the last day to register to vote in the election, members noted. Residents may register at the Forest Knoll post office and at Tarr's General Store in Woodacre.

Lea will speak at meetings of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. and Valley Lions Club on behalf of the tax issue. The committee will send speakers also to other local groups.

The district is asking voter approval of a 65-cent tax increase boosting the general purpose tax from $2 to $2.65 per $100 assessed valuation. Present total tax rate for the district, including 26 cents in over-rides and 20 cents for bond interest and redemption, is $2.46.

The committee will meet Feb. 26 at 8 p.m. at Lagunitas School.

Lightfoot Gives U.S. Indian Offer Hotfoot

The Stanford Indian was on the warpath today, not against University of California but against the federal government.

Harry D. Williams of 33 Hill Avenue, Fairfax, better known as Prince Lightfoot, "mascot" of Stanford University athletic teams, sounded off in behalf of fellow redskins who last week rejected by 317 to 298 a government offer of $29,100,000 for some 62 million acres of California that the U.S.A. took from the tribes in 1853.

The prince, decked out in tribal finery, spoke at a gathering of Indians in Nourse Auditorium in San Francisco at which the vote was taken.

Likening the offer to the Dutch purchase of Manhattan Island, Lightfoot (or Williams) said:

"Watch out, Indians, here comes the white man again with his $24."

The turnout yesterday was the first in 12 votes taken so far among Indians in various parts of California. Three more votes are scheduled by tribesmen who have not yet balloted on the offer.

Walter M. Gleason of San Francisco, one of the Indians' 22 attorneys in the battle for federal settlement for the lands, said the offer would give each Indian on the California rolls about $800 in cash. If it is not accepted, five to 15 more years of litigation might follow, he warned.

Prince Lightfoot, who is from the Hoopa Valley reservation and is now a San Francisco office manager, had a more immediate complaint.

"What with meetings and picketing, I've missed the Stanford-Cal basketball games two nights in a row," he mourned.

Drake Students Collect $225

Juniors at Sir Francis Drake High School collected $225.25 Saturday by selling cakes in San Anselmo and Fairfax grocery stores.

The money will be added to the Junior Prom Fund which now stands at $395.25. President Andy Morse said that he hoped the class could raise $500 before April 10, the date of the prom. A stationery sale is now under way.

Belli Sues For Attack On Mickey

ATLANTA (UPI)—Jack Ruby's lawyer today filed a $10 million dollar damage suit against the federal government on behalf of former California racketeer Mickey Cohen.

The suit charged that officials of the U.S. penitentiary here were negligent in protecting Cohen from an attack by a fellow prisoner Aug. 14, 1963, and that Cohen was now paralyzed from the waist down.

The case was filed in U.S. District Court by four attorneys, including Melvin Belli of San Francisco who represents Ruby, now on trial in Dallas for killing Harvey Lee Oswald, president John F. Kennedy's accused assassin.

Other lawyers in the case are Jack A. Dahlstrom of Los Angeles, J. Victory Barr Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., and William B. Paul of Atlanta.

The suit alleged that Cohen suffered extensive brain injury as a result of an attack by another prisoner, Berri Estes McDonald, in the prison radio shop where Cohen was at work.

Hunt But No Theft In Hunt Road House

Home of Gordon D. Corte, 15 Hunt Road, San Rafael, was ransacked Saturday but nothing was believed taken, police said today.

Won't Split Cyprus, U.S., Britain Say

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —The United States and Britain today disclaimed intention to partition Cyprus between its battling Greek and Turkish communities.

Parallel Anglo-American statements came as the Security Council prepared to meet in a tense session to seek a solution of the communal fighting that private U.S.-British diplomatic efforts were unable to settle in the face of opposition by Cypriot President Archbishop Makarios.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson issued a formal statement saying:

"Press reports from London that the United States is seeking to isolate Archbishop Makarios, and favors settlement of the communal conflict in Cyprus by partition, are untrue."

A British delegation spokesman said "stories of cantonization of Cyprus bear no relation to current British policy."

In Washington, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, just returned from an unsuccessful effort to win Makarios' agreement to a NATO peace force in Cyprus, said President Lyndon B. Johnson shared his conviction that the United States should not seek to impose a solution.

"Our purpose is not to impose or dictate or even suggest the terms of a final solution," Ball said after reporting to Johnson, "but to bring about conditions . . . of law and order."

Never Discussed Hoffa Jury, Witness Says

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (P)—A West Virginia businessman testified today he never discussed James R. Hoffa's 1962 trial jury with the government's chief witness in Hoffa's current jury-tampering trial.

Nicholas J. Tweel, 39, Huntington, W. Va., was the first defense witness as the current trial began its fifth week.

He is one of five men on trial with Hoffa on charges of trying to influence jurors in the Teamsters president's conspiracy trial in Nashville.

Tweel's version of his conversation with Edward G. Partin, a local Teamsters official from Baton Rouge, La., differed sharply from Partin's version.

when Partin testified for the prosecution two weeks ago.

Tweel said he met Partin in the lobby of a Nashville hotel the day Hoffa's 1962 trial opened.

Partin said he was a Teamsters official, Tweel said, and he was having problems with the government. Partin is under federal indictment on a charge of embezzling $1,500 in union funds.

"He asked me if I knew a good attorney he could get in Louisiana," Tweel said. "I told him I had a friend who had a lawyer at New Orleans, but I couldn't remember his name. That was the extent of my conversation with Mr. Partin. That was the last and only time I ever saw Mr. Partin until he took the stand here."

Partin had testified he met Tweel in the hotel coffee shop and was invited to Tweel's hotel room later that day. Partin said Tweel told him he had been invited to Nashville by Alen Dorfman—a Chicago insurance man who also is on trial here—to help "set up a method to get to the jury."

Diabetic, 68, Dies After Snow Ordeal

FRESNO (P)—A 68-year-old Fresno diabetic who spent seven chilling days marooned in the snow covered Sierra without his insulin kit died today.

Attendants at the Fresno Veterans Hospital said death was due to "complications arising from exposure."

Claude M. Gardner, an amateur prospector, was found Saturday morning in the mountains east of Fresno by a woodcutter lying face down on a dirt road.

"He was barefooted when I came up to him, he didn't move a muscle," said the woodcutter, Carl Sherman. "I put my ear to his chest and darned if his heart wasn't still beating. I couldn't believe it."

Sherman revived Gardner and drove him to the Trimmer Spring Ranger Station. From there, Gardner was taken in an ambulance to Fresno where doctors said his feet were frost-bitten.

Until last night, his condition had been described as satisfactory.

COURT

present House of Representatives.

Justice Tom C. Clark, in a separate opinion, concurred in part with the majority and dissented in part.

Clark said he agreed with the majority that congressional districting is subject to judicial scrutiny. But then he asserted the case should be sent back to the federal district court in Georgia for a hearing on the merits of contentions by persons who objected to congressional districting in that state.

Justice Stewart, in a brief separate opinion, said he joined Harlan's dissent. He expressed belief Harlan had "unanswerably demonstrated" that the Constitution "gives no mandate to this court or to any court to ordain that congressional districts within each state must be equal in population."

Two Fulton County (Atlanta) citizens asked the Supreme Court to require a redrawing of Georgia congressional districts.

Their appeal gave the high tribunal its first chance to deal with the congressional districting problem since its decision in 1962 in a Tennessee case. The Supreme Court then ruled that districting of state legislatures was subject to review by federal courts.

The project includes retirement of both the current indebtedness and the proposed bonds. In the next fiscal year, the rate would be 39 cents per $100 assessed valuation; in 1965-66, it would be 40 cents; in 1966-67, 42 cents; in 1967-68, 43 cents, and in 1968-69, 45 cents.

This year bond interest and redemption tax is 24 cents, down considerably from a year ago, when it was 42 cents. Reason for the drop was that the 42-cent tax, being more than needed, built up enough reserve to carry a good load of the payments through this fiscal year.

The current 24-cent tax, plus $1.75 general purpose tax and 13 cents in over-rides brings the total district tax this year to $2.12 per $100 of assessed valuation.

The projected 39 cents for bond interest and retirement, including two cents for retirement for bonds proposed in tomorrow's election, would increase the district's total tax rate next year to $2.27, provided that other variables remain constant.

There are a total of 14,193 registered voters in the district. On Oct. 8, there were 13,352. The increase, in large part, represents registration work done by the bond committee.

Polling places for the election will be at all elementary schools in the district; at the Heindel garage, 4 Knight Drive; at the Lawrence garage, 8 Alexander Avenue; at the Beccio garage, 1765 Lincoln Avenue, and at city recreation center, 37 Union Street.

The all-America favorite for a geographical place name is Summit. There are some 70 Summits scattered from the East Coast to Alaska.

Dobbs Given Delay On Bolinas Zone Changes

County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs today was given until April 20 to present firm proposals to the Marin County Planning Commission for new ordinances for zones specified in the master plan for the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area.

One of the zones, the commercial-recreation zone, has been requested by residents before final zoning is approved for the area.

Dobbs told the planning com-

Approval For Angel Island Cable Asked

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has applied for an Army Corps of Engineers permit to lay a submarine cable between the Tiburon Peninsula and Angel Island.

The cable, to be placed in Raccoon Strait of San Francisco Bay, would run about a half-mile from a telephone pole on Point Tiburon to the landing area on the north shore of Angel Island between Point Stuart and Hospital Cove.

If the permit is granted, telephone service on Angel Island and from the island to the mainland is scheduled to begin June 1, according to John H. LaNoue, telephone company district manager.

The cable will replace a defective cable from Sausalito to Angel Island owned by the U.S. Army which went out of service last December, LaNoue said.

Greatest depth of the bay along the projected line of the cable is 100 feet.

Protest that the cable would interfere with navigation will be received by the Army Engineers, 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco, until March 6.

Candidates For Municipal Elections Are Popping Up

Candidates for municipal elections began popping out all over the place today as the "home stretch" arrived for filing. Deadline is Thursday.

Two more candidates emerged in Larkspur, two in Mill Valley, one in Sausalito, one in San Anselmo, and one in Belvedere.

Incumbent Vaughn Marker and Henry Brocco completed petitions over the weekend and filed them today with the Larkspur city clerk, both seeking positions on the city council in the April 14 election.

Marker was appointed last June to fill out the term of Daniel Allen, who resigned from the council. He is a former planning commissioner and lives at 39 Tulane Drive. John J. Offenbach circulated his petition.

Brocco, owner of Bon Air Pharmacy, lives at 349 Via La Paz. His papers were circulated by Alvin Marks.

In Mill Valley, petitions were taken out for Holbrook T. Mitchell and John Finn III, while civil engineer George E. Wickham, who took out a petition mission there is no controversy, generally, about where the zones would be applied, but discussion is needed on details of the ordinance itself.

The two other ordinances pertain to upland areas, mentioned in the master plan but not in the specific zoning recommendation for the area before considered by the commission.

One ordinance would specify minimum lot sizes on one, two, three or five acres, and would be applied to the upper part of Bolinas Mesa.

The other would provide for lot sizes also, but on the average basis, with no minimums specified, and would be applied to the uplands of Stinson Beach. With the proposed zoning here, cluster development would be allowed, but average density might be as low as one house per 10 acres.

Mel Wax, San Francisco Chronicle city hall reporter and chairman of the Sausalito Planning Commission, filed a petition for Sausalito City Council. Wax lives at 25 Glen Drive. His petition was circulated by attorney Alan D. Bonaparte, and Wax announced Earl Dunphy, a former city councilman, would be his campaign manager.

Incumbent John M. Reichmuth took out a petition for re-election to the San Anselmo City Council.

Thomas S. Price became the first candidate for Belvedere's city council, filing a completed petition. He is a building contractor in San Francisco, and lives at 7 West Shore Road,

Zoning Law Changes Put Over Again

The Marin County Planning Commission today again continued consideration of major changes in the zoning ordinance dealing with commercial and industrial zones.

This time the matter was held up until March 16, after Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said a committee from the business groups had raised objections to provisions about requirements for setbacks to allow for future street widening, among other things. These provisions are included in the present ordinance, Dobbs noted. He said they might require review of the entire zoning ordinance.

"You're right," said chairman Niels Schultz Jr. "We're opening a big can of worms."

Dobbs said the special committee, which included representatives of the real estate board and Marin County Development Assn., had also suggested more uses could be allowed in the highway commercial district, for instance, automotive garages, offices, used car lots, and bowling alleys. He suggested they might be allowed by use permit.

Schultz said the use permit procedure should be reserved for only a few uses which might be allowed for highway travelers, and that others should be excluded.

Dobbs said he would have the suggestions and complaints of the committee reproduced and circulated for study by the commission before the matter is considered again.

Clow Loses Race For GOP Position

John W. Clow of Mill Valley lost a three-way race for presidency of the statewide Young Republicans at the San Diego convention during the weekend.

John A. Gromala, 34-year-old Humboldt county attorney described as an "ultra conservative," won the presidency on the first ballot, defeating James Slaybaugh of Fremont and Clow.

"If there had been a second ballot, Clow would have had a good chance," said Ad Zang Jr. of Mill Valley, who was one of six Marin delegates who attended the convention.

The Marin group voted 100 per cent for the resolution endorsing Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona for President. That resolution passed with an 82 per cent vote by the 338 voting delegates who attended the weekend convention.

Raymond T. Haas Jr. of Terra Linda was elected regional vice president for the First Congressional District.

Clifford Gerstner of Greenbrae, president of the Marin Young Republicans, headed the Marin delegation.

U.S. Children Play Near Cuban Guns

SOVIET SHIPS IN CUBAN HARBOR—A Russian tanker, foreground, and the British freighter Kinrose were anchored side by side over the weekend in waters off Bouqueron, Cuba. This picture was made by photographer Robert M. Schutz from atop Commandante Hill along the northern fence of the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo Bay.

Unexplained Firing Near Guantanamo

GUANTANAMO NAVAL BASE (UPI)—Children of U. S. servicemen stationed at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base splash in the Caribbean surf under the watchful eye of Cuban soldiers manning a machine gun aimed at the beach.

The Communist soldiers are stationed atop a cliff that overlooks Kittery Beach. A fence separating Cuba from the U. S. Base stops at the edge of a High sea-washed cliff which overlooks the beach and is Castro-held territory.

But despite the threatening picture of armed men parents of the children are not apprehensive. The guards have been there a long time, and have never fired their weapons.

But, for U. S. Marines manning a series of trenches reminiscent of World War I, the sound of Cuban gunfire is common. Almost every week, unexplained shooting breaks out on the Cuban side opposite their positions on Leeward Point, a detached section of the American enclave.

The most recent was last weekend when several shots were followed by the sounds of a truck screeching to a halt. A dull thud of what could have been a body was heard hitting the planks of the trucks bed. Then silence.

Four defectors have successfully crossed the fence and have been granted asylum in the sector during the last three months. There

UDALL RELEASES NEW WATER PLAN

$3.1 Billion Project Meets Objections Of California, Keeps Water In State

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California's strong objections to the original Pacific Southwest Water Plan apparently won over Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall, who released a 3.1-billion-dollar project plan over the weekend.

"Every pertinent objection raised by California has been met," said Robert J. Pafford Jr., regional director of the Federal Bureau of Reclamation.

The state's biggest objection—shipping California water to Arizona—bore fruit. Pafford said "not one drop" of California water will leave the state under the revised plan.

The plan involves water development in California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Utah. The new report is now being reviewed by the budget bureau prior to submission to Congress.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown had made a strong pitch for a regional approach, which is what Udall's new proposal now emphasizes.

The proposed plan and the draft of legislation to implement it have not been approved by the Johnson administration. It was pointed out in Washington that Udall could still recommend revisions when the plan finally goes to Congress.

The modified plan calls for more than half the proposed money to go into California water development by 1980.

Udall is expected to ask the current Congress to give immediate authorization to 1.7 billion dollars in projects in the five states, including 240 million dollars to enlarge the state water projects aqueduct from below Bakersfield through the Tehachapies.

Pafford praised California's objections to the original plan, saying:

"California had a terrific advantage of having competent people in the resources agency who could go right in and analyze the plan."

2 Buildings Burn Down In Apts

APTOS, Calif. (UPI)—Firemen continued their investigation today into the cause of a $100,000 fire which destroyed two buildings here.

The fire Saturday burned down the Palmer Glass Co., and a garage.

The blaze also damaged an adjacent beauty salon and an antique shop.

Volunteers from four fire departments and the state division of forestry battled the fire for an hour before bringing it under control.

Crashed Plane Souped Up To Do 6,000 MPH

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An Air Force X-15 rocket ship which crash-landed at Mud Lake, Nev., 15 months ago has been repaired and modified to reach speeds close to 6,000 miles per hour, it was announced today.

The Air Force and the Federal Space Agency said test flights of the aircraft will be resumed later this year. This plane will weigh almost 25 tons when ready for launching by a "mother" ship as compared with the 17 tons of the two other X-15's.

The Air Force Systems Command said the modified X-15 will be capable of 30 seconds of sustained flight at mach 6 and will be able to accelerate to mach 8 for brief periods. A speed of Mach 1 is approximately 762 miles per hour at sea level, the speed of sound.

The fuselage has been extended 29 inches to provide space for experimental equipment, the windshield has been redesigned to withstand temperatures up to 1,800 degrees Fahrenheit, and a liquid hydrogen fuel system has been added for flight testing of a ramjet engine during later phases of the research program.

Two external tanks have been added to greatly increase the fuel capacity and allow an extra 65 seconds of burning time for the YLR-99 rocket engine. The tanks will be dropped during acceleration when the plane approaches mach 2 and will be parachuted to the ground for recovery and reuse.

Marin Demos Are Uncommitted In U.S. Senate Race

Representatives of the Marin Democratic Assembly will be uncommitted when they arrive at the California Democratic Council convention in Long Beach this coming weekend.

Assembly members discussed four leading contenders for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator at a meeting Friday night, but did not decide to back any particular candidate.

"There was even discussion on whether the CDC convention should endorse," reported Mrs. Jules Becker, assembly chairman. About 30 assembly members will attend the convention and they are completely "uncommitted," she said.

Contenders for the Democratic candidacy are Sen. Clair Engle, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, State Controller Alan Cranston and Rep. James Roosevelt.

Vandals Set School Fire

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A fire department spokesman said today that a $15,000 blaze which swept through the gymnasium at Benjamin Franklin Junior High School was started by vandals.

The fire, fought by about 120 men and 20 pieces of equipment yesterday, also damaged three other rooms in the building.

William Chief William Murray said, "There is no doubt that this fire was set deliberately."

He said there were overturned desks and broken glass on the first floor of the three-story building. Officers from the police juvenile bureau were investigating.

30 Take First Marin Copter Ride

Thirty persons availed themselves of airport service of San Francisco-Oakland Helicopters Inc. from Marin on its opening day, and about 100 took excursion rides.

John Cunningham, vice president of the 'copter line, today was bubbling enthusiastic over the Marin reception to the new service.

"Saturday's passengers were equal to the number we carried from downtown Oakland, and we've been operating there for three and one-half years," he said. Today's reservations for flights out of Marin also equalled Oakland, he reported.

First flight out from the county 'copter pad on the shore of Richardson Bay was at 7:14 a.m. Saturday. On board were George J. Benoit Jr. of San Anselmo, en route to catch a plane at San Francisco Airport, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Bennett of Larkspur, who rode the round trip.

Two Seized In Robbery By Proxy In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police say they have investigated San Francisco's first reported hold-up by proxy and arrested the two men responsible.

Cab driver Dewey Biagi told officers he was flagged down by two men Saturday who directed him to a Fillmore Street market.

One of the men got out and went inside where he told market owner Tewfik A. Elder: "Gimme the money or (pointing to the cab) my partner will blow that driver's head off."

At the same moment, Biagi felt a lump pressing against his head and was ordered to stay parked until his other fare returned from the store.

Elder dumped $46 in a brown bag, and then called police, giving them the cab's license plate number as the two men drove away with Biagi. Moments later police stopped the cab and were told by Biagi that he had just let the two men, both only about five feet tall, off at Fisherman's Wharf.

Shortly afterward, officers at the wharf arrested Roy Jenkins, 23, a farm tractor driver, and Ulysses White, 33, a handyman.

Police said Jenkins, who was also identified by a limp, had $46 in a paper bag on him.

Bolinas District Deeds Land Near Beach To County

Bolinas Beach Public Utility District directors voted Saturday to deed land to the County of Marin to provide parking for 60 cars adjacent to Agate Beach.

A preliminary plan for development of the parking area was presented by Kelvin J. Nelson, county director of parks and recreation.

The board awarded to low bidders these contracts for installation of a new water transmission line and water storage tank: D. D. Altermatt, Kentfield, $42,124, for a 10-inch asbestos cement pipeline; Chicago Bridge and Iron Co., San Francisco, $24,920, for a welded steel tank.

Construction, financed from the sale of a $75,000 bond issue and for which the California bank was low bidder, will begin as weather permits, said Charles G. Hadley, district president.

They think it would be the scene of the first heavy fighting, and would be the jump-off spot for any retaliatory invasion of Cuba that might be contemplated as a result of an attack.

Reporters touring the base visited the Marines along a mile and a half of trenches dug into high ground where the attack would be most likely.

From these trenches, and from watch towers also along the route, the Marines look out on the Sierra Maestra Mountains which back up almost to the bay, and in which Castro got his revolutionary start.

The Leeward defense forces have been targets of the most vigorous harassment aimed at the base from the Cuban side in the past. Shouts of "Capitalist dogs" and other insults have been endured, along with rock-throwing which has broken the windshields of several vehicles.

All harassment has stopped since Castro cut off the base's water supply Feb. 6, but the leathernecks are still using road by-passes and observing other precautions around the most dangerous spots. They are under the strictest orders not to touch off an international incident.

The Cuban troops on Leeward once appeared to be militia but are now regular army detachments. In the last several months they have substituted Russian automatic rifles for the Belgian-made weapons they formerly carried.

At the end of the tour, reporters talked to a Cuban employed on the base. He said he knows that the Russians have a naval preserve at Banes, that "not even the Cuban military" is allowed to enter.

Industrial Averages Drive To New Peaks

NEW YORK (AP)—The industrial average drove toward new peaks as the stock market closed higher today in active trading.

Airlines, savings-and-loans, tobaccos and assorted blue chips paced the list.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.6 million shares compared with 4.36 million Friday.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional but there were wider moves.

Advances of more than 3 points by Eastman Kodak and nearly 2 by Sears, Roebuck & Co. gave the averages some sturdy blue chip support. Wall Streeters hope for a stock split when Eastman directors meet Thursday.

The cigarette issues, receiving renewed investment attention because of their "oversold" conditioned, recovered moderately. Liggett & Myers, American Tobacco, Lorillard and Reynolds Tobacco were fractionally higher.

General Dynamics, also a fractional gainer, looked like the volume leader.

National Airlines rallied more than 3 points now that strike has been averted. Up more than 2 were Northwest Airlines and Pan American. Western Airlines and Continental rose more than a point each. American and United added fractions.

Cigar manufacturers also continued to gain. Bayuk rose about 2, Consolidated Cigar more than a point, General and D.W.G. fractions.

Financial Federation and Wasco rose more than a point, each as savings-and-loan holding companies resumed their rise. Up close to a point were United Financial of California and First Charter Financial.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds declined slightly. U. S. government bonds were unchanged.

Various Reactions On Strength Of Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Bradbury K. Thurlow of Winslow, COHU and Stetson says "stock prices are not giving a very encouraging performance."

"We believe a serious reaction may be near at hand and would look on near term weakness as a warning to sell weak stocks rather than as an opportunity to buy bargains. However, since our views are in the minority and may well prove wrong, we suggest that those who are optimistic on the market outlook should consider buying good cyclical stocks such as steels, coppers, aluminum, railroads, machine tools and railroad equipments."

RECENT MONTHS
Bache & Co. says "The keynote of trading in recent months has been quality and as a result many speculative excesses which could arise in a market which has had so prolonged a move have been arrested. Therefore we believe the longer term underpinnings of the market remain strong. In periods of consolidation we continue to advocate the purchase of selected quality issues."

MILITARY SLASHES
Harris, Upham and Co. notes "Aerospace stocks continue to do poorly in relation to the general market. President Lyndon B. Johnson's new budget calls for slashes in military spending in the years ahead, and on the basis of this, one could assume that the future for the military contractors is uncertain. During the last three months, however, many of the leading aerospace issues have had relatively stable stock market performances, which could indicate that they are near support levels. In some cases, these stocks are attractive on a yield basis."

CAPITAL GAINS
Shearson, Hammill and Co. says, "The market is devoid of any significant excesses that need to be corrected and any reaction that might set in should not carry very far. For investors who can be content with moderate intermediate term capital gains, such a reaction ought to provide a profitable buying opportunity."

ARA Inc. Sales
LOS ANGELES—Automatic Retailers of America, Inc., announced fiscal first quarter earnings are the highest of any quarter in its history. A new sales high for any three-month period was also reached, with total revenues of $55,891,729.

Payment of the redemption price may be obtained by presentation of the debentures to the corporate trust department of United California Bank in San Francisco.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Million-Dollar Rubens Stolen From Museum

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—A Rubens painting valued at a million dollars was stolen during the weekend from the Brussels Museum of Ancient Art.

Museum conservator P. H. Roberts-Jones told newsmen the painting, "The Negro's Head," was worth at least 1 million dollars.

The thief or thieves entered the museum through a glass roof from a scaffolding on houses being built behind the museum. They climbed down a 20-foot rope ladder, took the painting and escaped by the same route.

The painting, by the 17th century Flemish master Peter Paul Rubens, measures 20 by 25 inches.

Roberts-Jones told newsmen: "The only thing which astonishes me and which upsets me is that people can take all this trouble for such a well-known work of art for which they will find no outlet. This painting is not saleable."

Corte Madera To Eye $200,000 Bonds

The Corte Madera Town Council will consider adopting a resolution setting April 14 for a bond issue which could amount to $200,000 for a public safety building and a second firehouse at its 7:30 p.m. meeting today.

Also on the agenda are requests by four employees for waivers from the newly enacted residence requirement and a recommendation by town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandon that the council object to the Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s raised rates for street lights in Mariner Highlands and Parkview Terrace.

Bay Transit Cars To Be Rolling In 4 Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Preparation for construction of the Bay Area's billion dollar rapid transit system is proceeding on schedule and cars should be coursing over the 75-mile network by 1968.

So said General Manager B. R. Stokes yesterday as the Bay Area Rapid Transit District received its first progress report of 1964.

The first stage of construction will be on the 4.5 mile test track between Walnut Creek and Concord in Contra Costa County.

Meanwhile, test digging and engineering studies are under way. Ten holes have been dug so far, one 70 feet below the surface in a parking lot at Mason and Turk streets in San Francisco. This is part of the research involved in planning the system's Market Street tunnel.

Once construction starts, said Stokes, some 50 construction firms from all over the nation probably will share the work in the operation. More than 100 of the jobs, he added, will be in the neighborhood of one million dollars.

The biggest single job—the 132 million dollar trans-bay tube—will surpass the 110 million-dollar Oroville Dam contract. It will be parceled out in sections.

The district will spend some 60 million dollars on its electrical system, which will use more power than a community of 100,000.

The entire system will use more steel than both the Golden Gate and Bay bridges put together.

"It's like the Grand Canyon," observed Deane Aboudara, district electronics and equipment engineer. "You go and see that place and don't realize just how big it really is."

Suit Opposes Clerk Pay Cut

The Sausalito City Council has been ordered by Marin Superior Court to show cause next Monday why it should not be restrained from cutting the salary of the Sausalito city clerk and placing on the April 14 ballot a proposal to make the city clerk's office appointive.

The court was asked to restrain the council from both actions in a suit filed by Warren Glass, a Sausalito insurance man. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. issued the show cause order.

The council recently cut the clerk's salary from $200 per month to $40, and voted to put the proposal to make the job appointive on the ballot. Similar proposals were rejected by Sausalito voters in 1960 and 1962.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Itemize Deductions? You Have To Make A Decision

By P. J. WIKEL, C.P.A.
Should you itemize your deductions on your Federal tax return?

If your itemized deductions are less than 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income and your adjusted gross income is less than $10,000, you should claim the standard deduction or use the tax table.

If your income is between $5,000 and $10,000, take 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income. However, if it is over $10,000, your standard deduction is limited to $1,000. If you are a married person filing a separate return, your standard deduction is limited to $500.

If your income is under $5,000 you must use the tax table to gain the benefits of the standard deduction. You can not deduct 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income. The tax table automatically allows you 10 per cent in lieu of itemized deductions.

It will ordinarily be better to itemize your deductions if you are a homeowner paying interest and taxes, or if you make large contributions to organized charities, or if you have unusually large medical expenses during the year, or if you have a casualty loss, etc.

If you or your wife file separate returns and one elects to itemize deductions, the other must also itemize. One spouse cannot file a long form 1040 and take all the deductions and the other spouse file a form 1040A or take the standard deduction or use the tax table.

You are expected to pay your income tax on the basis of the lowest figure possible; therefore, you should choose the form that results in the lowest tax for you.

Vote Tomorrow On Bonds For San Rafael Schools

Voters in the San Rafael Elementary School District will ballot tomorrow for the second time on two bond issue proposals. One would authorize the district to bond up to $3,300,000 for new school buildings and sites and additions to present schools. The other would authorize bonding up to $670,000 to add multi-use rooms at nine schools.

Let's consider the big issue first. If two-thirds of the voters approve (the bonds failed last October with about 62 per cent "yes" vote), this does not mean the school district can immediately float $3,300,000 in bonds. It has no such bonding capacity. State law limits the amount to which a district can bond, based on its assessed valuation. The San Rafael Elementary School District as of now has a bonding capacity of $1,660,000. That is all the bonds that could be issued immediately.

The district would then issue bonds as it became legally possible, probably at two-year intervals as assessed valuation grows.

Authorization for the $3,300,000 issue, however, would enable the board of education to plan with knowledge of how much money it would have to spend on new schools and expansion. Thus it could probably save money in the long run from what the schools would cost if the board had to return to the voters every two years to ask authorization for a new bond issue.

This makes sense. The cost is no more to the taxpayer than if only a $1,660,000 bond issue were asked now. It may, in the long run, be less.

By 1968-69, allowing for the average annual increase in assessed valuation, and the payoff of outstanding bonds, the district bonding capacity will be increased by about $2,100,000 beyond what it now is. Thus, on a six-year program, the district could issue $3,760,000 in new bonds.

The proposed $3,300,000 bond authorization for new schools, additions and sites, plus the $670,000 for multi-use rooms, total slightly more than the expected bonding capacity within six years.

Thus, if both issues receive voter approval, the district could commit all its bonding capacity and at the end of six years might find itself unable to finance schools which—although not now projected—were very much needed. It might have to borrow from the state (which can be expensive) or put schools on double sessions.

This does not make so much sense.

Multi-use rooms are nice to have, but we do not believe they are so necessary that the school district should exhaust its bonding capacity to build them. We think it wiser to hold a little in reserve for unforeseen building needs five or six years from now.

Therefore, we urge a YES vote on Proposition A (the major issue) and a NO vote on Proposition B (the issue for multi-use rooms).

And most of all, we urge that every voter in the San Rafael Elementary School District go to his polling place Tuesday and cast a ballot. Last time, only 27½ per cent did. That's not rule by the majority, or anywhere near it.

Yellow Fields Of Mustard

The yellow fields of mustard flowers are one of the first big shows on the Marin stage. They are also one of the most delicate and loveliest.

Besides the flowers, the greens are delicious boiled, containing the subtle tang of the mustard oil. In addition, they make a pungent salad.

Food for beauty and food for the stomach. A very pleasant combination.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Brown Unexpectedly Supports McCarthy Proposal For Parks

By WAT TAKESHITA

SENATE MINORITY LEADER John F. McCarthy's proposal to turn Forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite into state parks drew support from an unexpected quarter—the governor himself.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who seldom agrees with the Republican senator from Marin, applauded the proposal by McCarthy.

"Does that sound like a feasible plan to you in Marin County right across the bay?" a newsman asked the governor.

"THAT IS the first good idea Senator McCarthy has had in a long, long time," the governor replied. "But it does sound like a good idea. I would like to see that very, very much."

A little inter-party quibbling is healthy. But dissension can go too far. Let's hope that the Democratic administration and our Republican legislators see eye to eye on other matters, too.

SOME PEOPLE SUSPECT that Marin County may be losing out because its representatives happen to be anti-administration. For example, a special bill to set up a transit district for Marin was vetoed by the governor last year. Was it because of misunderstanding and misinformation, or was it because the author of the bill was a Marin Republican?

A fourth superior court for Marin was turned down last year by the governor. The state Judicial Council recommended against a new court, and perhaps it wasn't warranted.

Nevertheless, there are many in Marin who suspect that the governor's hostility toward his critics may have something to do with what happens to bills originated by Marin legislators.

ON THE LOCAL scene, campaign activity has stepped up in the Fourth Supervisorial District. Incumbent supervisor is George H. Ludy. At least two others are seeking the post—James Marshall and Tom Storer.

The recent redistricting has nearly tripled the size of the electorate in that district.

The newly added areas include Bolinas, Stinson Beach, and San Geronimo Valley. These areas will produce many more voters, and possibly a few more candidates.

Some names mentioned as possible supervisor aspirants include:

Jim Dougan from Bolinas, Hugh Dougherty from Stinson, Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas and Al Giddings of Woodacre.

Tetanus Vaccinations Urged For Everyone

Editor, Independent Journal:

It occurs to me that a public service could be rendered in light of the regrettable death of the 75-year-old Mill Valleyan from lockjaw, by pointing out to your readers that this disease is now rare because an excellent and lasting immunity can be accomplished by vaccination.

Most children are now routinely immunized by their family physicians. This is also true of all people who have served in the U.S. Armed Forces since just before the 2nd World War to the present. Other groups have also received routine immunization.

However, there are many individuals, particularly in the older age groups who are not immune.

The series of vaccinations is received inexpensively and safely, and immunity can be reinforced when needed with the use of a booster.

On the other hand, passive immunity administered in the form of serum used when exposure to the disease has occurred or used as therapy, once the disease is contracted, may be dangerous and possibly ineffective.

Individuals who are not now immune to lockjaw (tetanus) should be urged to consult their family physicians.

Supervisor Board Needs Balance Too

Editor, Independent Journal:

As the time approaches for the election of supervisors, I wish to say publicly that I believe it to be to the best interests of all in Marin County to re-elect William Fusselman. It is quite true that there are many who feel that he is too conservative, but is that bad? In this day and age when it is all too popular to spend, isn't it plain common sense to have at least a part of our board practicing the art of self-restraint in order to keep our taxes from skyrocketing to an even higher level than at present?

In this year of national elections, we hear much about having the president and vice president come from different parts of our country. Isn't it just as logical to have conservative members, as well as liberal ones, on our board of supervisors in order that we may have a "balance of power?"

Strange Reasoning By Tam School Board

Editor, Independent Journal:

In the Feb. 4 I-J, I see where E. J. Thomas Jr., W. B. Lewis, and J. M. Stubblebine chose to reject the wishes of the voting majority of students at Redwood High School and not name their library in honor of the late president. They claimed as their reasons, too small a majority, too small a total percentage of students voting and a building of not enough importance, although as stated in this article the total vote turnout, percentage wise, was larger than that which elected Lewis and Stubblebine. The 80-vote majority out of over one thousand is just about eight per cent, which is a much greater per cent than that which elected Kennedy president.

The board then had the audacity to suggest that if the students really knew what they voted for and felt strongly enough about it, they would come to the next board meeting and protest the action the board had taken. Man! What strange reasoning that is....

Rather these students had been informed not to have an election on this subject than to have their decision rejected by these three men because that decision did not conform with their opinion.

Bigotry, Prejudice At Terra Linda

Editor, Independent Journal:

A house is for sale across our street. The man of the house hasn't been transferred; the house adequately meets this family's needs; they don't really want to move. The reason for the decision to sell is their revulsion from a shameful exhibition of prejudice and bigotry.

Our good neighbors are from a proud European country which bore arms against us during World War II. They were 8-12 years old at that time. They are now United States citizens and a credit to both countries.

They are no longer able to turn the other cheek in the face of calls of "Dirty Nazi" thrust upon their children by the children and adults of another family whom we also have numbered among our "good neighbors."

It is this sort of unreasoning prejudice which blinds people's hearts, causes such suffering and terror in the world, and does the cause of world peace severe damage.

Why should we judge our neighbor on the basis of ancestry, religion, race or political beliefs rather than their manner of conducting themselves in our midst?

Why, in a community like Terra Linda, must foolish bigotry deprive us of a good neighbor?

It's Cheaper To Police Teen Dances

Editor, Independent Journal:

I wish to thank you for your fine editorial of Feb. 4 entitled "Stopping Dances May Be Giving In To Lawlessness". You distinctly clarified the difference between the promoted teenage dances for profit, and the legalized club-type organized teenage dances.

As the current chairman of our Sausalito Teen Age Club, your editorial has been most gratifying to me, especially after the rather adverse publicity your paper had published in reference to the "teen" dances.

I also thank you too for suggesting that our local communities should feel obligated to help us police our dances. Were we not to have this recreation, or "outlet for our so-called stored-up energy," I believe the over-all police problem would be greater, and certainly more expensive in the long-run.

Thanking you again for your voice in our "teen" problems, I remain,

Will Active Seekers Or Quiet Nixon Or Lodge Win In New Hampshire?

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is almost a dreamy quality about the campaign for the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, one of the candidates, started criss-crossing New Hampshire last week in below-freezing weather before dawn.

She chatted with one couple in their home by the light of oil-lamps and as the day wore on she talked about fabrics and foxes, advertising and ancestors.

But she never got around to explaining why she's in the race at all except to say she wants to beat the other candidates.

One of them, Philadelphia's Harold E. Stassen, who has had presidential ambitions for years, started campaigning in New Hampshire the week before.

Last week a spokesman at Stassen's headquarters in Manchester said: "If you know when he is coming back, you are one up on me."

In his short visit, though, he did promise to "build a major international airport in New Hampshire," if he's elected.

Another candidate, Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has made the rounds of the state in search of primary votes, last week was out West trying to drum up interest in himself there.

HE AND New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, also running in New Hampshire's March 10 primary, will oppose each other in the Oregon primary May 15 and California's June 2 primary.

Wednesday in California Goldwater said that state, with 86 votes in the Republican convention next summer, "is far and away the most important primary election state."

This may not seem very flattering to the New Hampshire voters, although it's realistic. They will be able to send only 14 delegates to the convention.

The smiling, handshaking Rockefeller is more jovial than Goldwater with his heavy dark-rimmed glasses. Rockefeller is spending a lot of time whisking around New Hampshire.

He tried to get Goldwater to debate him. Goldwater wouldn't. Rockefeller has spent a lot of time finding fault with both Goldwater and President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Goldwater spends most of his time criticizing Johnson but hardly ever mentions Rockefeller. Goldwater has been criticized for not shaking hands with all the people who want to shake his.

Recently in New Hampshire two Goldwater aides said polls in two communities showed him leading Rockefeller but two-thirds of those polled were listed as undecided.

"We've got to get this thing off dead center," Rockefeller said.

EVEN IF ALL four of these publicly acknowledged candidates—Smith, Stassen, Goldwater, Rockefeller—managed to make New Hampshire hum they may still wind up behind two men not acknowledged candidates at all.

The voters could write their names on the ballot: former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., American ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Lodge has been truly silent but Nixon, even though he says he's not a candidate, sounds like one in his speeches outside New Hampshire.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Two Top Soviet Aides 'Died' Since Defection

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Two high-level Soviet officials have suddenly "died" since Yuri I. Nosenko, a ranking secret police official, defected in Geneva and requested U.S. asylum.

Dead under mysterious circumstances are Pavel M. Zernov, deputy minister of medium machinery buildings, and V. V. Borisoglebskiy, chairman of the military tribunal which handled the trial of former U-2 pilot Francis Powers after he was shot down over Russia.

Both had been superiors of Nosenko before his assignment as chief KGB officer with the Soviet disarmament delegation in Geneva. Only the most trusted KGB agents are permitted to operate outside of Russia.

U. S. INTELLIGENCE authorities assume that Zernov and Borisoglebskiy were put to death for their roles in promoting the defector within the KGB.

At the time of his defection, 36-year-old Nosenko was on special assignment in Geneva from the "American section" of the KGB. The initials KGB stand for the "Committee for State Security," current designation of the Russian secret police.

According to highly reliable intelligence sources, Nosenko is now in the U.S. under the "protective custody" of the Central Intelligence Agency.

They stress that the youthful KGB operator, now No. 1 on the Kremlin's assassination list, is the most important official to defect to the West since the end of World War II.

IF HE LIVES to tell his full story, these intelligence experts point out, Nosenko is in a position to give details from the KGB file on Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of the late President John F. Kennedy, and Mrs. Marina Oswald, his widow.

Nosenko's high-level assignment in the "American section" of the KGB gave him access to plans and information on Soviet secret police operations in the U.S.—including details of any possible Kremlin involvement in the Kennedy assassination.

As top security assistant of Zernov, Nosenko also was in a position—as far back as a year and a half ago—to know the innermost secrets of Russian nuclear weapons production.

His information could alert U.S. officials to the Soviet's status as compared to the U.S. in the development and testing of nuclear bombs—including the 60-megaton super-bomb. He could also supply reliable data on whether the Russians have cheated on the nuclear test ban since signing the treaty in Moscow last July.

"Nosenko can give us the information to determine if the U.S. acted wisely in signing the nuclear test ban," one military intelligence officer reported. "He can reveal how right or wrong our policies toward Russia have been during the past four or five years."

Nosenko's revelations could also blow sky-high the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange negotiations now going on in Moscow.

As a former KGB agent who worked closely with cultural exchange officials, Nosenko is putting his finger on a number of Russian scientists and artists who actually were KGB agents sent to the U.S. to spy under this program.

The motorist inched carefully to the town garage, spotting nary a sign of the constabulary en route. When Not Planning, John Erickson Looks Where Car Tabs Are Stuck

THE OTHER DAY we ran into sticker watcher John Erickson after he had just completed his latest sticker study.

Erickson, who lives in San Francisco but works as planning consultant for Mill Valley and Larkspur, said he estimates that 20 per cent of the drivers have pasted their 1964 license stickers on the right side, "which, as you know," he said, "is the wrong side."

"I counted 26 stickers on the wrong side between Bernal Heights and the Roundhouse Restaurant on the bridge. Between the bridge and Mill Valley, I counted 22 more, all wrong."

"About 25 per cent of the cars had no stickers at all," he added, "and two stickers were pasted in the middle of the plates."

Erickson figures people who place stickers on the right side, contrary to requests of the Department of Motor Vehicles, either have not bothered to read, can't read or are non-conformists.

FIREMEN JOHN Rocha, James Martinoni and Slue Cardwell of Sausalito and Fireman Robert Thomas of Hicks Valley went on a clam party the other day at minus tide at Bolinas and took home their limits of 10 horse necks.

Said Slue: "In digging, we almost lost Martinoni. He's short."

Cardwell said he steams the clams in butter, parsley flakes and a little onion in chowder and "there's nothing like 'em."

Mariana Reis Fostine has retired from work in a whisky factory after 20 years and seven months, and, she says, "I feel kind of lost. I never thought it would affect me like this. I miss the girls."

In her early days at American Distilling Co. in Sausalito, Mariana worked four hours a day, "on the line." She was two hours on casing, two hours at a sitting down job, then two hours on the line stamping or labeling.

For six or seven years, however, everything has been automatic. One day she cased 31 cases of quarts in a four hour period. That's 372 quarts.

Now 66, Mrs. Fostine says, "I'm going to take it easy. Life gets shorter and shorter." She said, "The girls gave me a dinner at Sabella's, some baby orchids and some airplane luggage."

HENRY FOSTINE, Mariana's husband, retired about three years ago from the Mill Valley street department and now he rides a bike around town. Asked if she were going to take up cycling, Mrs. Fostine said, "I have to learn how to ride first."

We saw George Thompson the other day walking down Corte Madera Avenue followed by the Irish setter, Red Dog, who was woofing like crazy. Asking George what this woofing was all about, he said Red Dog joins him when he gardens and then, when he sees him on the street, he recognizes him as a friend and barks in greeting for several blocks.

"It's a bloody nuisance," says English-born Thompson. "It's not the way one wants to be recognized."

San Anselmo School Board Due Park Plan

The San Anselmo School District Board is expected to receive a proposal tomorrow that it contribute financially to the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission program.

Dist. Supt. Stephen Parodi said recreation commission members will present a proposal to the board at 8 p.m. at Isabel Cook School.

The school district has allowed the use of school facilities for recreational activities, but that has been the extent of joint participation this far, Parodi said.

The school board also will receive a report from Parodi on classroom organization for the 1964-65 school year and a progress report from the Citizens Committee for Schools.

ART BUCHWALD

All Politicians Shake Hands But Proxmire Is In A Class By Himself

WASHINGTON — Politicians by nature are big handshakers, but very few can be put in the class with Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin.

Proxmire is the handshaker's handshaker. Almost every weekend, for five years, since he's been in the Senate, he has flown back to his home state with one purpose in mind—to shake as many hands as possible. Last year he shook 300,000 hands and this year, since he is running for re-election, he hopes to better it.

While most politicians will shake a hand when they see it, Proxmire searches out hands to shake in an almost scientific manner. It's almost impossible not to shake hands with him if you happen to be in the same town.

A typical Proxmire weekend, as he explained it to us, goes something like this: The senator leaves Washington at 6:45 in the evening and arrives in Milwaukee at 8 p.m. He immediately heads for a shopping center and starts shaking hands.

PROXMIRE always stands out in front of the center so he can shake hands with people as they go in as well as come out. He usually says, "I'm Senator Proxmire and I just wanted to say hello." Then he hands them a piece of campaign literature.

"If anyone throws away the literature, I pick it up," he said. "It looks very bad to have your campaign literature littered on the sidewalk."

On very cold nights a kindly shop owner may let the senator stand in the entry area.

After shaking hands at the shopping center, the senator then retires to get up early on the following morning for factory handshaking. He turns up at the gate of a large factory and shakes hands with all the workers as they go in. If there is more than one gate to the factory, the senator may come back at the end of the day and shake hands as the workers come out.

DURING THE DAY he will go to the main street of the town and shake hands on a street corner or in front of a large department store. On Saturday afternoons, during the football season, the senator searches out the best game in town and shakes hands with all the fans as they go in. He may work several games in the same day, driving from one town to another.

"Football games give you a lot of hands," the senator said, "but the people have other things on their minds and you're not sure when they shake your hand if they remember it."

This is why the senator likes to work bowling alleys. "People are more relaxed in bowling alleys and are sitting around doing nothing."

IN THE EVENINGS Proxmire prefers to find an ice show or a basketball game or a movie theater to work in front of. His greatest evening since he's been in politics, he told us, was when he hit an ice show, a dog show, and a Mormons' convention all in the same night.

Although handshaking in the winter is cold work, Proxmire says he prefers it to the summer. "You get a brisk handshake in the winter. People don't want to linger. In the summer people hold on longer and their hands perspire."

That's when Proxmire develops callouses.

OCCASIONALLY he hurts his hand.

"The biggest danger for a politician is to shake hands with a man who is physically strong, has been drinking, and is voting for the other guy."

Sometimes a woman who shakes hands with him brings the senator's hand up to her bosom and holds it there. Proxmire doesn't like this because, he said, "I can lose four handshakes while it's going on."

Modern Art Works Reported Stolen

Three modern art works, said to be worth $175, were reported stolen from the Quay Art Shop at 32 Main Street, Tiburon, sheriff's deputies said Saturday.

Shop owner Ruth Braustein said an abstract oil painting, triangular in shape; a small oil painting on wood, and a 10-inch bronze sculpture were missing. She said they may have been taken by shoplifters on a recent weekend when the store was very crowded.

Sneak Storm Whips Over New England

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A sneak Northeast storm whipped by gale force winds deposited up to 18 inches of snow and caused at least 13 deaths in New England yesterday.

Temperatures dropped into the teens over much of the area after the storm passed. Many highways, cleared of all but an inch or two of packed snow, became covered by sheets of ice.

The wind, clocked at 92 miles per hour at Truro on Cape Cod, lashed coastal communities, built up huge drifts and created blizzard-like conditions.

In Maine, four women drowned when their car slid off U.S. 1 and landed upside down in a Passamaquoddy Bay cove at Robbinston.

At least nine other persons—six in Massachusetts and three in Connecticut—died of heart attacks while shoveling snow or from storm-caused exhaustion.

Eighteen inches of snow fell in the Plymouth, N.H., area. Lebanon, N.H., had 14; Worcester and Bedford, Mass., 12; Brunswick, Maine, 11; Boston, 10; Hartford, Conn., 8 and Montpelier, Vt., 6.

The per capita use of paper in the United States takes the wood growth from about three-quarters of an acre of commercial forest.

Many Americans are concerned about the ease of life in our country today—and what it may do to our children. Will the "soft living" of our times bring a continuing decline in their physical and moral stamina? This could happen if our children aren't encouraged to develop their bodies as well as their minds. Parents should insist on a minimum of 15 minutes of vigorous activity each school day—for every boy and every girl. Tell your school officials about your concern. Two San Rafael Stars Still 'Out'

Things were looking dim today at San Rafael High School with the news that the Bulldogs' two cage stars, Rod Monti and John McKinnon, will not play in tomorrow's Marin Athletic League game against Tamalpais High School.

Monti, nursing a twisted ankle, and McKinnon, hurting from a knee injury, were still on crutches today and will definitely be out of the lineup tomorrow, said San Rafael athletic director Angelo Colombo. The two cagers were termed as doubtful starters next Friday when the Bulldogs take on Marin Catholic.

The bulldogs, who are leading the league with a 7-1 record, will be playing on Tam's court tomorrow, another strike against them. In other action on tomorrow's slate, Marin Catholic is at Novato High School and Terra Linda High hosts Redwood.

All three varsity games will start at 4 p.m., followed by the Class B contests.

Monti is the league's leading scorer with a total of 173 points and 21.6 average. McKinnon was averaging slightly more than 10 points per game. Both Monti and McKinnon are the top rebounders for San Rafael, in addition to their scoring ability.

They were both injured in San Rafael's game last Tuesday with Novato and missed the entire second half. San Rafael subsequently went on to lose its first league game of the year, 52-46.

Battling the Bulldogs for the lead are Novato (6-2), Marin Catholic (6-3) and Redwood (5-3).

Maybe Cookie's Sinister Stare Will Awaken Giant Base Runners

Cookie Lavagetto isn't an easy person to know. He is a quiet fellow who doesn't run around shaking hands. His appearance is forbidding — until he smiles.

Arthur Daley, the New York Times columnist, once said that when Cookie frowned he looked as sinister as an underworld character from the Untouchables.

But looks are deceiving, particularly in Cookie's case. They loved him in Oakland before he moved up to the majors in the mid '30s. Brooklyn idolized him when he spoiled Yankee Bill Bevens' bid for a no-hitter with a two-out ninth inning pinch double that drove in the two winning runs in the fourth game of the 1947 World Series.

And they loved Cookie in Washington during the four years he managed the Senators after Calvin Griffith fired Charley Dressen in 1957. Griffith gave Lavagetto the sack in 1961 shortly after the Senators became the Minnesota Twins so St. Paul and Minneapolis fans never got to know Cookie well.

DURING '62 and '63, Cookie was Casey Stengel's righthand hand with the Mets. Toward the end of last season, a routine physical examination disclosed a spot on Lavagetto's lung. A successful operation removed it.

At the time of the operation, Lavagetto decided to remain closer to his home in Orinda. He went to see Alvin Dark and the Giant manager worked out a deal whereby Cookie became a Giant coach and Wes Westrum was sent to the Mets as one of Casey's helpers.

"THIS IS the biggest break of my life," said Lavagetto.

Jack Hanley

"The Giants have a great chance to win the pennant and I hope to be around when they do it."

Lavagetto's contribution to any Giant pennant bid will be two-fold: (1) First base coach and (2) Coach of base running. "Base running has been one of the weakest parts of our game," said Dark. "I know Cookie is going to help us in getting it straightened out. He is to be of tremendous help and I'm happy we have him on the staff."

ANYTHING LAVAGETTO does is certain to improve Giant base running which not only is erratic at times but downright atrocious.

Even Willie Mays, as great as he is on the bases, can take some special tutoring from Cookie this spring. Of all the base running boners made by the Giants last season, Mays committed the biggest one.

Remember that game in Chicago when Lindy McDaniel picked Mays off second with the bases loaded?

If Lavagetto fails to get results with ordinary teaching methods, he still may achieve his objective with a sinister stare—the kind that makes him look like a dangerous underworld character.

Marin Whips Yuba, But Loses Ground

College of Marin's cage team will take on the basketballers from Menlo College tomorrow night in a practice game at Drake High School in San Anselmo after winning its fifth conference game last Saturday on that same court.

The Tars of Marin scored a heavy first half to whip Yuba College 96-88 Saturday to run their record to 5-2 in Golden Valley Conference action — but they lost ground in the title race.

In the meantime, Napa and Santa Rosa each won two games over the weekend, both teams downing Siskiyou and Shasta in back-to-back games. Napa, leading the league, now has a 7-1 record, Santa Rosa is second with a 6-2 mark, while Marin dropped to third with its 5-2 record. Sierra College is still in contention with a 4-3 record in conference play.

BIG LEAD

Marin dominated the first half of play Saturday, posting a 61-42 lead at intermission. Then at one point in the second half, the Tars led by 27 points. But then in the second half the Tars ran into a cold spell for five minutes as Yuba narrowed the gap.

Again the big guns for Marin were forward Brad Busch and guards Ron O'Connell and Jay Johnson. Busch topped the scoring with 25 points and O'Connell and Johnson were close behind with 24 points each.

Adding to the three-man total of 73 points were forward Jim Wylie and center Pete Bardea with 8 points apiece. It was Wylie's first game of the year as he started his one-half season's eligibility in the Yuba game. He played only one-half of last season last year. Bardea led the Tar rebounders with 18 off the boards.

Tomorrow night's game in San Anselmo will start at 8 o'clock.

Ken Hubbs Tragedy Is Shock

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Shock and deep sorrow were still felt today over the death of Chicago Cubs infielder Ken Hubbs, whose bright future was snuffed out forever in an airplane crash last week.

He was only 22, the National League's Rookie of the Year in 1962 when he set two major league fielding records at second base.

He was just getting started. "You don't have to worry about second base here for 10 years," he said with youthful confidence when he made the grade with the Cubs two years ago.

Last Thursday he took off from the airport at this central Utah community where his brother Keith had gone to school at Brigham Young University. With him was Dennis Doyle, 23, an orphan who grew up in the Hubbs' home at Colton, Calif.

The wreckage of their plane, a single-engine Cessna 172 which Hubbs had bought a year ago, was found scattered in and around a 10-foot hole in the ice on Utah Lake, five miles west of Provo, Saturday.

Their bodies were recovered by skindivers in 15 feet of water under the ice Sunday.

Funeral services for Doyle are scheduled Tuesday in Provo where his wife's parents live.

FUNERAL THURSDAY

Funeral services for Hubbs will be at Colton Thursday. His Chicago Cub teammates will act as pallbearers. Hubbs' teammates of the Colton Little League championship team of 1954 will be honorary pallbearers.

Utah State Aeronautics Director Harlon Bement said the way the plane crashed, nose down at an angle of 70 or 80 degrees with the right wing hitting first, indicates that the plane had been in what he termed "a graveyard spiral" which can occur when a pilot loses sight of the horizons because of bad weather.

Hubbs got his pilot's license two weeks ago. He had logged 71 hours and 15 minutes flying time before this trip.

Will A. L. Oust Finley? Summit Meeting Friday

BOSTON (AP) — The American League lost the World Series, the All-Star Game and attendance last season. Now comes a Feb. 21 summit meeting when fellow owners decide whether to lose Charles O. Finley.

Time twice has run out on deadlines for Athletics' owner Finley to sign a lease with Kansas City officials.

So far, there's no agreement reached or action taken. Midnight Saturday passed and Finley's adamant two-years-or-nothing lease stand appeared to stymie the A. L. as effectively as Sandy Koufax had the pennant-winning Yankees.

President Joe Cronin took the first step yesterday by announcing the Friday meeting to which Kansas City officials are invited.

Cronin hints the owners may be ready to carry out their threat to oust Finley, made at the last owners' meeting Jan. 16 when Finley's request to move the franchise to Louisville was killed 9-1.

Finley reaffirmed last night he would be at the controls when Kansas City opens the season.

Since the previous owners' meeting, Finley has threatened a law suit if the league attempts to take away his franchise and retained famed trial lawyer Louis Nizer.

Senators May Apply Fresh Heat To NFL-AFL Playoff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bigwigs of professional football testify today before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee on proposed legislation and the future of their sport.

IT'S GETTING TO BE QUITE FRUSTRATING

The Billings Hutchison Builders today were wondering if they would ever beat Milen's Jewelers baseball team.

Yesterday the Builders' semi-pro team from Marin fell to the East Bay club, 3-2, the sixth time in as many games the Marin team has fallen to Milen's in two years. Five of those losses were by one run and the other by two.

Builders' south paw Bob DeRosa, stung for the loss, went the first six innings and was relieved by righthander Ron Cole who hurled scoreless ball for the last three innings. Ron Blum and Jess Munyon each singled in the seventh and ninth innings, but Builder rallies fell short.

The loss dropped the Builders to second place in the playoffs of the Alameda Winter Baseball League.

on an old problem.

Is the National League finally willing to agree to an annual World Series type playoff between the two leagues' champions?

The NFL has thus far rejected all AFL attempts to set up such a contest.

At main issue is a bill sponsored by the subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) to spell out uniform antitrust law exemptions for professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

The first really discordant note in the hearings is expected from the Baltimore Colts' big end, Ordell Braase, who is to appear as a spokesman for the players.

Brasse, president of the National League Players Association, has declared in advance he wants more protection for players' rights in contract matters written into the measure. Football management has shown no enthusiasm at all for such proposals.

Representatives of big league baseball testify tomorrow with the possibility of witness stand confrontation between Charles O. Finley, battling owner of the Kansas City Athletics, and American League President Joe Cronin.

Cronin and President Warren Giles of the National League have accepted invitations to testify. The subcommittee says Finley, however, has not even answered its invitations to state his side of a row over his efforts to move his American League Athletics to Louisville, Ky., Oakland, Calif., or some other point.

'Golly!' Beams Huega After Big Ski Win

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCH, EN, Germany (UPI)—Even 20-year-old Jimmy Huega of Tahoe City, Calif., was impressed over becoming the first American to win the Kandahar trophy.

"Golly, this is a wonderful feeling having won such an important race at my age," said the slender skier.

A bronze medal winner in the Olympic slalom a week ago, Huega won the combined title of the Kandahar — considered the most important post-Olympic Alpine skiing event — with a total time of 106.50 seconds yesterday.

The young Californian was timed in 50.98 seconds for the first heat and in 55.52 for the second one. Both courses measured 612 yards with vertical drops of 207½ yards. The first course had 62 gates and the second one 66.

Huega clinched his victory when two of his closest rivals, Jean Claude Killy of France and Gerhard Nanning of Austria, stumbled and fell during the first heat.

Liston-Clay Weigh-In Controversy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Miami Beach Boxing Commission will decide tonight whether world heavyweight champion Sonny Liston and challenger Cassius Clay weigh in their title bout Feb. 25.

Jack Nilon, Liston's advisor, said Liston "will not meet Cassius Clay in person until they enter the ring, and that's final."

Nilon said he had checked with his attorney and "there is nothing that says we have to weigh in together."

Bill McDonald and Chris Dundee, co-promoters of the fight, turned the question over to the boxing commission.

Commission Chairman Morris Klein said, "This is a matter for the commission, anyway. Both parties will have to abide by all of our rules."

Klein acknowledged that the practice of separate weigh-ins was irregular.

Both boxers are scheduled to get on the scales at 10:30 a.m. the day of the fight.

Schoolboy Star Of Golden Gate Meet

By DICK BARNES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Little Gerry Lindgren, a squeaky-voiced high school distance running sensation, may learn this week just how good his chances are to run in the 1964 Olympics.

The 115-pounder from Spokane, Wash., who posts ever-more-incredible times in each race he runs, will try for the National AAU indoor three-mile title Saturday night in New York.

"I sure don't know what I can do," said Gerry last Saturday night after he ran 8:40.0

for two miles at the Golden Gate invitational before a sell-out Cow Palace crowd of 13,217 fans.

"We really don't know what Gerry can do," chimed in his coach, Tracy Walters of Rogers High School.

What he has done so far is run two miles nearly 30 seconds faster than any high schooler in history, approach within 10.4 seconds of world standards and lose only grudgingly in two races against pending world record holders.

"We've been thinking for the Olympics all along," says Walters, "but it's all a nostalgic dream." A dream? No American ran faster than 8:44.6 outdoors last year.

Gerry, who is only 17, is aiming for a 5,000-meter berth in the Olympics—the two-mile is not a Games event.

The AAU three-mile — 188 yards shorter than 5,000 meters — will be his first official race at the longer distance.

"But our training schedule is such that it doesn't make much difference what he runs," says Walters. "He just does a lot of long distance, some over hills and in sand."

"The competition and real desire are what have brought his times down. With more competition he gets tougher all the time."

Gerry admitted that after-effects of a cold and a week of penicillin shots bothered him at the Golden Gate race, which he started "hoping maybe I could run 8:46 again." That's what he clocked in January when he lost narrowly to Gaston Roelants of Belgium, pending world record-holder in the steeplechase.

Here Saturday he was beaten by the fine final-lap kick of Australian Ron Clarke, who holds world bests at six miles and 10,000 meters.

"He's colossal," said the Aussie veteran. "The kid's the best I've ever seen—even take his age away and he's still a good mover."

Lindgren led Clarke through a 4:19.7 mile, yielded the lead for a short time and was on top until 500 yards remained. Then Clarke went back in front and pulled away on the final lap, finishing in 8:36.9.

Clarke blazed his final 440 in 60.4, but Lindgren still had a strong 63.5.

Otherwise the meet was only ordinary. Jim Beatty made his 1964 debut but sagged to a 4:13.4 mile, losing indoors for the first time in four years. NCAA champ Morgan Groth from Oregon State won in 4:07.9.

Jeff Chase pole-vaulted 16-1½, Darel Newman of Fresno State upset record-holder Herb Carper in 6.1 for 60 yards and Canadian Bill Crothers out-kicked Norm Hoffman in a tactical half-mile.

Ed Machen In Kezar Go Tonight

Eddie Machen, trying to stay in heavyweight contention, must first find towering Duke Sabedong's chin when they meet tonight in a scheduled 10-round fight at San Francisco's Kezar Pavilion.

Fourth-ranked Machen is 31 and approaching the time in his eight-year professional career when the chances for his first title shot are becoming singular. He can't afford any setbacks in his pursuit of champion Sonny Liston.

Sabedong, at 6-feet-6, looms over half a foot taller than Machen. But the Samoan who now lives in San Francisco has failed to stand up to the class of heavyweights his opponent has faced in a career that spans about the same number of years.

Machen has racked up four straight knockouts since a brief mental breakdown last year. His 42-4-2 record is one of the best in the division with only one knockout loss.

CRUCIAL SETBACKS

But Machen's losses and draws have all come at crucial moments in his career with the one-round knockout by Ingemar Johansson in 1958 the paramount example of how to lose No. 1 ranking in a hurry.

Machen also is the last man to be around at the finish of a fight against Liston. This happened in 1960 when Machen dropped a 12-round decision.

Sabedong is one of four fighters who can claim going the distance with Cassius Clay in the talkative challenger's short professional life. This was over 10 rounds in 1961.

Tonight's main event will start at 9:30; preliminaries at 8:30. Prices are $6, $4 and $2.

Warriors Try To Launch New Streak

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cincinnati Royals and the San Francisco Warriors meet on neutral ground here in a National Basketball Assn. game tonight with the Royals trying to catch the Boston Celtics and the Warriors trying to forget them.

The Cincinnati team was still only two games behind in the NBA's Eastern Division after the leading Celts spoiled the Warriors' 10-game home court winning streak Saturday, 96-87.

The loss, the first in San Francisco since Boston was in town Jan. 2, cut the Warriors' Western Division lead to 1½ games.

The Celtics' John Havlicek poured in 21 points in the second half as Boston overcame a 46-42 Warrior intermission lead. San Francisco went 10½ minutes without a field goal in the third quarter when Boston defenders sagged on big Wilt Chamberlain and ran up 13 unanswered points.

Chamberlain took game honors with 32 points while Havlicek led the winners with 25.

TWO POINTS FOR TAMITES

Larry Gary (15, far left) of Tamalpais High School looks back to watch his layup shot drop through nets for two points against Novato High in their Marin Athletic League game Friday night at Novato. Novato's Barry Hachmyer was knocked to the floor on the play (lower left). Others in photo are Fred Arnold (35 of Novato), leaping in vain for rebound and Cedric Collett (14) of Tam. Novato won, 57-51, to stay in second place in the MAL race.

Cupit, Baxter, Aussie 1-2-3 In Tucson Golf

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Jacky Cupit could be the idol of all college freshmen today.

He just knocked off the senior big man on campus.

It happened in the $30,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament and admittedly a few years after Cupit and Rex Baxter left the University of Houston. But it happened.

Cupit shot a one under par 71 in the final round for a 278 total, 14 under par, to capture the $4,000 first prize in the Tucson event over the 6,917 yard desert course of the 49ers Country Club.

Baxter, of Amarillo, Tex., took second with a 69 and 276, collecting $2,700.

Three Marin Prep Wrestlers Win North Cal Honors

Two Novato High School wrestlers and one from Tamalpais High will be competing in the Northern California Invitational meet next Saturday after placing in the North Coast Section meet last Saturday at Clayton Valley High School, Concord.

Gary Arthur of Tam won second place in the 138-pound class, while Novato's Kit Cody and Mike Halkovich placed fourth in the 123 and 130-pound classes respectively. There were 53 schools represented in the meet, Novato had 10 grapplers entered and Tam had three.

The three Marin wrestlers, all winning medals for their performances, qualified for the northern state matches which will be held at Foothill College in Los Altos.

Six players in their first PGA year won money in an event most big name pros skipped. But South Africa's Gary Player, the only one of the "big three" competing, saw his money streak end at 26.

He shot a 78 and 291, five strokes more than the smallest money winner.

Collecting for the first time were Dick Crawford, Rye, N.Y., with $825 for a 283 and Clayton Johnson of St. Paul, Minn., with $332.50 for a 286. The other first year pros collecting were Chuck Courtney of San Diego who got $1600 for 279, George Archer of San Francisco with $825 for 283, Dudley Wysong of McKinney, Tex. $332.50 for his 286 and Randy Glover of Florence, S. C., the same.

The pros now enjoy a week off before starting the Greater New Orleans tourney on Feb. 27.

Seals Drop Closer To Loop Cellar

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Why aren't the sagging San Francisco Seals living up to last season's championship form?

One reason is goal scoring—both the ones they score and the ones scored against them. The Seals have given up 220 goals this season, the only team to allow more than 200 in Western Hockey League play.

And they've scored the second lowest number—180. So today, the defending league champs are in fifth place, one point behind Portland and one ahead of last place Vancouver, whom they take on here Tuesday.

Seattle took advantage of the Seals being one man short because of penalties and dumped the San Franciscans 6-3 yesterday. Three Totem goals came when the Seals had only five men on the ice.

The Seals have yet to win in Seattle this season. They now are 1-1 under new coach Nick Mickoski, and don't have much time to make the top four teams before the season ends March 22 and the Patrick Cup playoffs start.

Baseball Slugfest In San Anselmo

DeMaestri's Fairfax Garage baseball team dropped a 9-8 slugfest to Vaughan Liquors of San Francisco in a non-league game yesterday at San Anselmo's Memorial Park.

The 13-hit attack by the Garagemen, was led by Hamish Tyler with two triples and a single, Dan DeMaestri with three singles, Ron Sater with a two-run homer and a single, and Scott Davi with a triple and a single.

COLLEGE CAGE

Stanford Braces For UCLA Visit

You can look for UCLA's runaway Bruins to win only one basketball game this week. That's all they have scheduled.

But a sellout crowd will jam Stanford's crackerbox gym anyway on Saturday night to see if Coach Howie Dallmar's troops can recover from a brace of defeats which the Bruins hung on them in Los Angeles a month ago.

And there remains a chance, on paper, of the top-ranked Uclans blowing the Bix Sig title although they have won all of their 21 games to date and are 10-0 in the conference.

Stanford and California trail them by four games with six league contests to go. So those two teams have a chance. Like the guy next to you who bought a sweepstakes ticket.

Tenth-ranked Oregon State, class of the Northwest Independents, meets Idaho in a pair of games this weekend. And USF, now 6-0 in the West Coast A.C. skirmish, can just about wrap that up if it beats UOP Wednesday and St. Mary's on Saturday.

A rundown on Saturday's games:

BIG SIX

Walt Hazzard's 15 points not only helped UCLA make it two in a row over Washington, 88-60, but also smashed Willie Naulls' school mark of 1,226. UCLA hit on only 30 per cent of its shots from the floor during the first half. Then Gail Goodrich meshed 15 of his 22 points in the second half to spark the Bruin surge.

In the other Big Six games, California gained a second place tie with Stanford by besting the Indians, 59-52 while tail-end Washington State upset Southern California, 80-76. Bruce Ballmer's set shot gave the Bears a 48-46 edge. Then after Stanford had tied the score, baskets by Dan Wolthers and Ballmer put the Bears on top to stay . . . Jim Walton hit for 26 points and Byron Vadet added 24 in Washington State's surprise of USC.

WEST COAST CONFERENCE

USF's Dons broke the century mark for the second straight night when they clubbed Loyola, 102-59, behind Ollie Johnson's 25 points. This followed Friday's 103-68 win over cellar-bound Pepperdine. USF hit on 54 per cent of its field goal shots. Bob Burns had 21 points for Loyola.

U.C. of Santa Barbara downed St. Mary's 79-68 while San Jose State defeated UOP, 58-50 and Pepperdine won its first league game by downing Santa Clara, 80-75.

San Jose's hard-pressing defense held the Tigers to 16 points in the first half and Bill Wilson, UOP's 21-point per game man, was cut off with 10 . . . eighteen points by Tom Lee led the four Santa Barbara starters who hit in twin figures against St. Mary's . . . Ted Briggs scored seven of Pepperdine's 11 points in overtime for their 80-75 defeat of Santa Clara.

Conn Sees Easy Win For Liston

LAS VEGAS (AP)—Billy Conn, the old Pittsburgh heavyweight title contender, said today Sonny Liston "can pick his round" in beating Cassius Clay in their Miami Beach title fight Feb. 25.

Conn, 46, now a host at the Stardust Hotel casino here, said, "I think Liston might set a new track record for the shortest knockout. He can pick his round."

Conn said he would figure the heavyweight title bout would be an upset if Clay goes five rounds.

We've Come the Full Circle

There was a time in what I often refer to as my checkered career in the automobile business when a car salesman followed realistically the trite type-casting of the overdone cartoons. All he really needed were the orange shoes and the straw hat with checkered band to complete the thoroughly unwholesome picture. A small army (foreign legion material if there ever was) passed through Ames Ford during the regime of absentee non-Marlin ownership. Most of these are still passing from one city dealership to another, just one step ahead of legions of irate customers.

One of our major problems in those days involved recruitment of career-minded, substantial, straight-thinking men as salesmen. It was discouraging. So few of the higher calibre men applied, and our help-wanted ads brought only new batches of the same old flakes and other-dealer rejects. In desperation, we turned to the apple-checked novices, who pitifully thought a breezy familiarity with the latest hot-rod jargon insured quick success as a professional automobile salesman.

Do you know what utter futility really is? Try these on for size: explain slowly and very carefully to a fledgling, budding (but never to flower) salesman that one must never, never exclaim to that sixty-year-old deacon and his beautifully fragile wife, "This baby is guaranteed to do at least 110 in second!" Or, remain composed, with knuckles white, while you try to impress the gum-chewing veteran the house policy will not permit usury, fast switches, come-ons, or any of the hundred other varieties of phony short cuts to a sale, and that our policy is aimed toward retaining goodwill in the hope the customer will return to buy his next car here, too.

Complete futility. So, exit apple-cheek and gum-chewer. And, you work a lot harder with less men to spread the story of the new way to sell cars, the only way, the right way.

Gradually, oh so gradually, a change is apparent. You find more people are saying nice things about Ames Ford than those still knocking us. The spirit of the men perks up, for it is far more inspiring to find friendly, receptive reaction from potential customers. You know, Doug Cowan and Lou were right, by golly, when they said we had to follow the straight line in selling!

The apparent spectacular success of the "system" houses that saturate the T.V. and radio audiences with visions of huge pies in the sky, have enticed many an unwary able salesman away from us over the years. It doesn't take long for most of them to regret their move, however, when they discover their commissions suffered the same practiced art of "penciling" used on the naive T.V. and radio listener who reached for, but missed the pie.

So it is we find ourselves literally besieged by applications for jobs as salesmen for Ames Ford. Applications from good men, able men, honest men. Men, who, a few years ago, ignored our help wanted ads in the notion we could not offer them a solid basis for attractive earnings on a consistent basis, the only basis conducive to a happy and normal family life.

Our present staff of good, professional salesmen are happy and content, confident of their future with Ames Ford, because they know we are confident of our future in Marin County. We're not complacent about our progress. We can't be. There are still an awful lot of good people in Marin who do not believe we are sincere in our determination to please them. We aim to convince them.

UNEASINESS IN CYPRUS

A Greek Cypriot takes up a position behind a pile of sandbags in Famagusta, Cyprus, after the port city nearly exploded into violence. The incident took place Saturday when Turkish Cypriots unloading a Greek ship claimed they discovered guns and ammunition packed in crates labelled "printing equipment." Intervention by police averted a clash between Greek and Turkish Cypriots. Today Britain reinforced its peace-keeping forces in Cyprus to curb the communal fighting while the United Nations seeks a solution to the crisis. (AP Wirephoto)

New Meeting Tomorrow On Draper Plan

The San Rafael Planning Commission will have a special meeting tomorrow to reconsider a request from the Draper Companies to construct 1,186 apartments in the Northgate area of Terra Linda.

At a special session Feb. 4 the commission approved planned community zoning for 82 acres of Draper Companies property in the area, but denied a use permit for the apartments.

The firm has resubmitted its application for a permit and commissioners have called a special session on it at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

The land involved is between Nova Albion Way and Northgate Drive. Draper Companies plans to put up four apartment buildings 80 feet tall and others of three-story frame construction.

Representatives of the Terra Linda Property Owners Assn. have opposed granting of the use permit.

Princess Radziwill Gets Annulment

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Princess Lee Radziwill, sister of Mrs. John F. Kennedy, has been granted a Vatican annulment of her previous marriage to American publisher Michael Canfield.

Msgr. Francis J. Brennan said the annulment was granted last June or July by the Vatican's sacred rota, which is the Catholic Church supreme court in marriage cases.

The decision frees Princess Radziwill to marry her present husband, Prince Stanislaus Radziwill, in a Catholic ceremony. They were previously wed in a civil ceremony which is not recognized by the church.

Symphony Guild Gives Fine Marin Concerts

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

How much the Symphony Guild of Marin contributes to the musical life of the county was evident in two fine concerts over the weekend.

Last night Sandor Salgo conducted the Marin Symphony in the second concert of its 12th season at Novato High School. Saturday morning, a new two-piano duo presented a tastefully chosen and beautifully executed program at San Rafael High School. It was the second seasonal concert of Music for Minors, which is sponsored by the guild.

In the symphony concert the high point of the evening was the "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in A Major" by Mozart, with Roy Bogas as guest artist in his Marin debut as a pianist.

Heard several times here on the harpichord, he at last had the opportunity to demonstrate the talent which has placed him among the top young pianists of the county.

Admirably suited to the linear quality of the classic style was his smoothly flowing and rhythmic legato. He showed he has the power to make piano tone sing lyrically, dance with delicate grace or speak with authority.

In fact, the whole program was one of luscious melody and lilting rhythms, without banality.

Salgo led the orchestra in a sprightly reading of Schubert's Symphony No. 3, bringing out all of the beguiling charm characteristic of that composer's juvenile symphonic period.

Most interesting from the standpoint of originality and richness of orchestral color was Ravel's "Le Tombeau De Couperin," with some especially lovely effects in the woodwinds and on the harp.

The dynamically stimulating sinfonia to "La Cenerentola" by Rossini brought the evening to a brilliant close.

Saturday in 10 and 11 a.m. performances, the new piano duo of Sister Mary Dominic, O. P., of Dominican College and Elinor Armer entertained Marin children with a program well suited to a child's level of appreciation, but it was not condescending. Even adults could have enjoyed it.

Starting with two quiet little musettes by Bach helped somewhat to calm the natural restlessness of the youngsters, but this seems to be a difficult problem. A fun-and-games type of audience participation program releases their nervous energy, but the very tiny moppets and some undisciplined older children make entertaining at a quieter level very difficult.

The pianists' selection of brief pieces for the most part, together with frequent commentary, were fortunate techniques of dealing with the short attention span.

Enjoyed thoroughly by the children were Eugene Goosen's set of seven little pieces, "Hungarian Dance No. 6" by Brahms, "The Little Paper Doll" by Villa-Lobos, and selections from Copland's "Billy The Kid."

We were especially charmed with "Serenade" by Richard Strauss, "Festivals" by Debussy and the little pieces by Goosens too.

Court Holds Costello Can Stay In U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today ended the government's attempt to deport former underworld czar Frank Costello.

Even had Costello, 72, lost his case, the prospects of his deportation were dubious because of the reluctance of Italy to take back the one-time gambling kingpin, who has been in the United States since the age of five.

In today's decision, the court ruled that Costello is not deportable on the grounds which had been used by the justice department.

The law provides for the deportation of any alien who subsequent to entry has twice been convicted of "crimes involving moral turpitude."

At issue with Costello was that he was a naturalized citizen at the time he was convicted of the crimes, but was later denaturalized.

The government argued that the denaturalization canceled out his citizenship entirely. The court agreed with Costello that it did not.

The ruling was by a 6 to 2 vote.

In other actions, the court: 1. Rejected an appeal by Jackson, Miss., from a court decision desegregating all transportation in the city and state.

2. Turned down appeals from court orders desegregating public schools in Birmingham and Mobile, Ala., and Brunswick, Ga.

3. Left standing a court order ending segregation in the public parks and playgrounds of New Orleans.

Fairfax School Meeting Slated

Plans for easing the existing classroom shortage in Fairfax School District will be discussed at the trustees' regular meeting at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow.

Also scheduled are reviews of the reading program, board policy decisions of 1963-64, and district policy on leaves. Requests for authorization to hold summer school and to hire a principal for that school will be considered.

Trustees will study a request to continue participation in the county-operated special education program for the orthopedically handicapped, deaf, and mentally retarded.

Bonn Foreign Minister Has Precarious Hold On Job

By JOHN DORNBERG

BONN (WPS)—West Germany's Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder, opponent of French President Charles de Gaulle's policy toward Europe and the Atlantic Alliance, is in a precarious position.

Despite formal and informal denials that Schroeder is on the verge of losing his cabinet post, political sources here insist that he has recently been forced into a position of isolation by members of his own party, the Christian Democrats.

Acting with the growing number of key deputies of the CDU are those of its Bavarian sister organization, the Christian Social Union (CSU) of which Franz-Joseph Strauss, discredited former defense minister, is the head.

Reportedly doing everything in their power to topple Schroeder are former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Strauss, Bundestag Vice President Richard Jaeger, and Rainer Barzel, the CDU/CSU's deputy majority leader in parliament.

The reason is that Schroeder has put himself on record as opposing the French policy toward Europe and the Atlantic Alliance; and as favoring disengagement from Russia, and ending Germany's traditionally hard line on reunification, which would imply de facto recognition of East Germany.

A group of Bundestag deputies now believed to number between 120 and 160 (approximately one-half to two-thirds of the entire CDU/CSU faction) is opposed to Schroeder's policies. Their number, due to the prestige of Adenauer and the political machinations of the other rebels, is increasing steadily.

Schroeder's views and policies, of course, are not new. Though once a hard-liner himself, he has opposed the special relationship between Germany and France from the outset and has been on the U.S. bandwagon for more than a year.

But so long as Adenauer was Chancellor, Schroeder's role as an independent agent in the government was seriously curtailed by Adenauer's autocratic domination of the party and cabinet. Schroeder could talk, but his actions depended on approval from Adenauer.

When Ludwig Erhard became Chancellor it was expected, and soon became apparent, that Schroeder would find more resonance for his views and be allowed to implement them into policy.

For the first few months of Erhard's administration this proved to be the case. The turning point came during the chancellor's visit to Texas where the personal rapport between Erhard and President Lyndon B. Johnson provided the chancellor with a completely different appraisal of his own ability in the foreign affairs sector.

He was reinforced in these views when he scored an equally significant personal triumph in London last month. Since then Erhard has tended to strike out on his own internationally—which has contributed to the undermining of Schroeder's prestige.

But beyond that, Erhard, faced with an already slim numerical majority in parliament, has been forced to ameliorate relations with the recalcitrant conservative group headed by Adenauer and Strauss.

Schroeder is the whipping boy. That Adenauer means business became apparent recently in a CDU/CSU caucus meeting. For four months Adenauer had remained silent both on the floor of parliament and in caucus. His first major speech was a rousing attack on Schroeder's attitude toward de Gaulle and Schroeder's view on extending long-term credits to the USSR and SovBloc countries. Significant in the verbal assault was Adenauer's attempt to drive a wedge between Schroeder and Erhard on the question of relations with France.

Though Adenauer is no longer head of government, he is still the head of his party, and his active re-entry into party affairs during recent weeks indicate that Adenauer, at 88, is still as foxy a politician as he has always been. For Schroeder personally and for West Germany's role on the international scene in months to come, this fact will be of major significance.

On February 3, Schroeder left Bonn for a month's vacation. While it has taken him out of the direct line of fire, it could prove a fatal absence from the scene of political activity.

The Adenauer-Strauss faction, according to sources within the party, plan some personnel changes in the foreign ministry. While Schroeder is gone they hope to maneuver a number of pro-de Gaulle careerists into key positions at the foreign office. That, they believe, will checkmate Schroeder effectively if, on his return, his views have not changed.

Trapping is one of the oldest occupations of man, older even than agriculture and probably even older than hunting and fishing.

Board Approves Mount St. Helena Land Purchase

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state public works board has approved the purchase of 2947 acres of land in Napa County, the Gallacomes Ranch, for the new Mount St. Helena State Park in Sonoma County.

The board also approved purchase of about 106 acres of land for an addition to the Dry Lagoon Beach state park, about 40 miles north of Eureka, on the Humboldt County Coast.

The 1963 budget appropriated 2.5 million dollars for the Mount St. Helena purchase and $50,000 for Dry Lagoon. The board's action authorizes the staff to proceed with negotiations for purchase of the property.

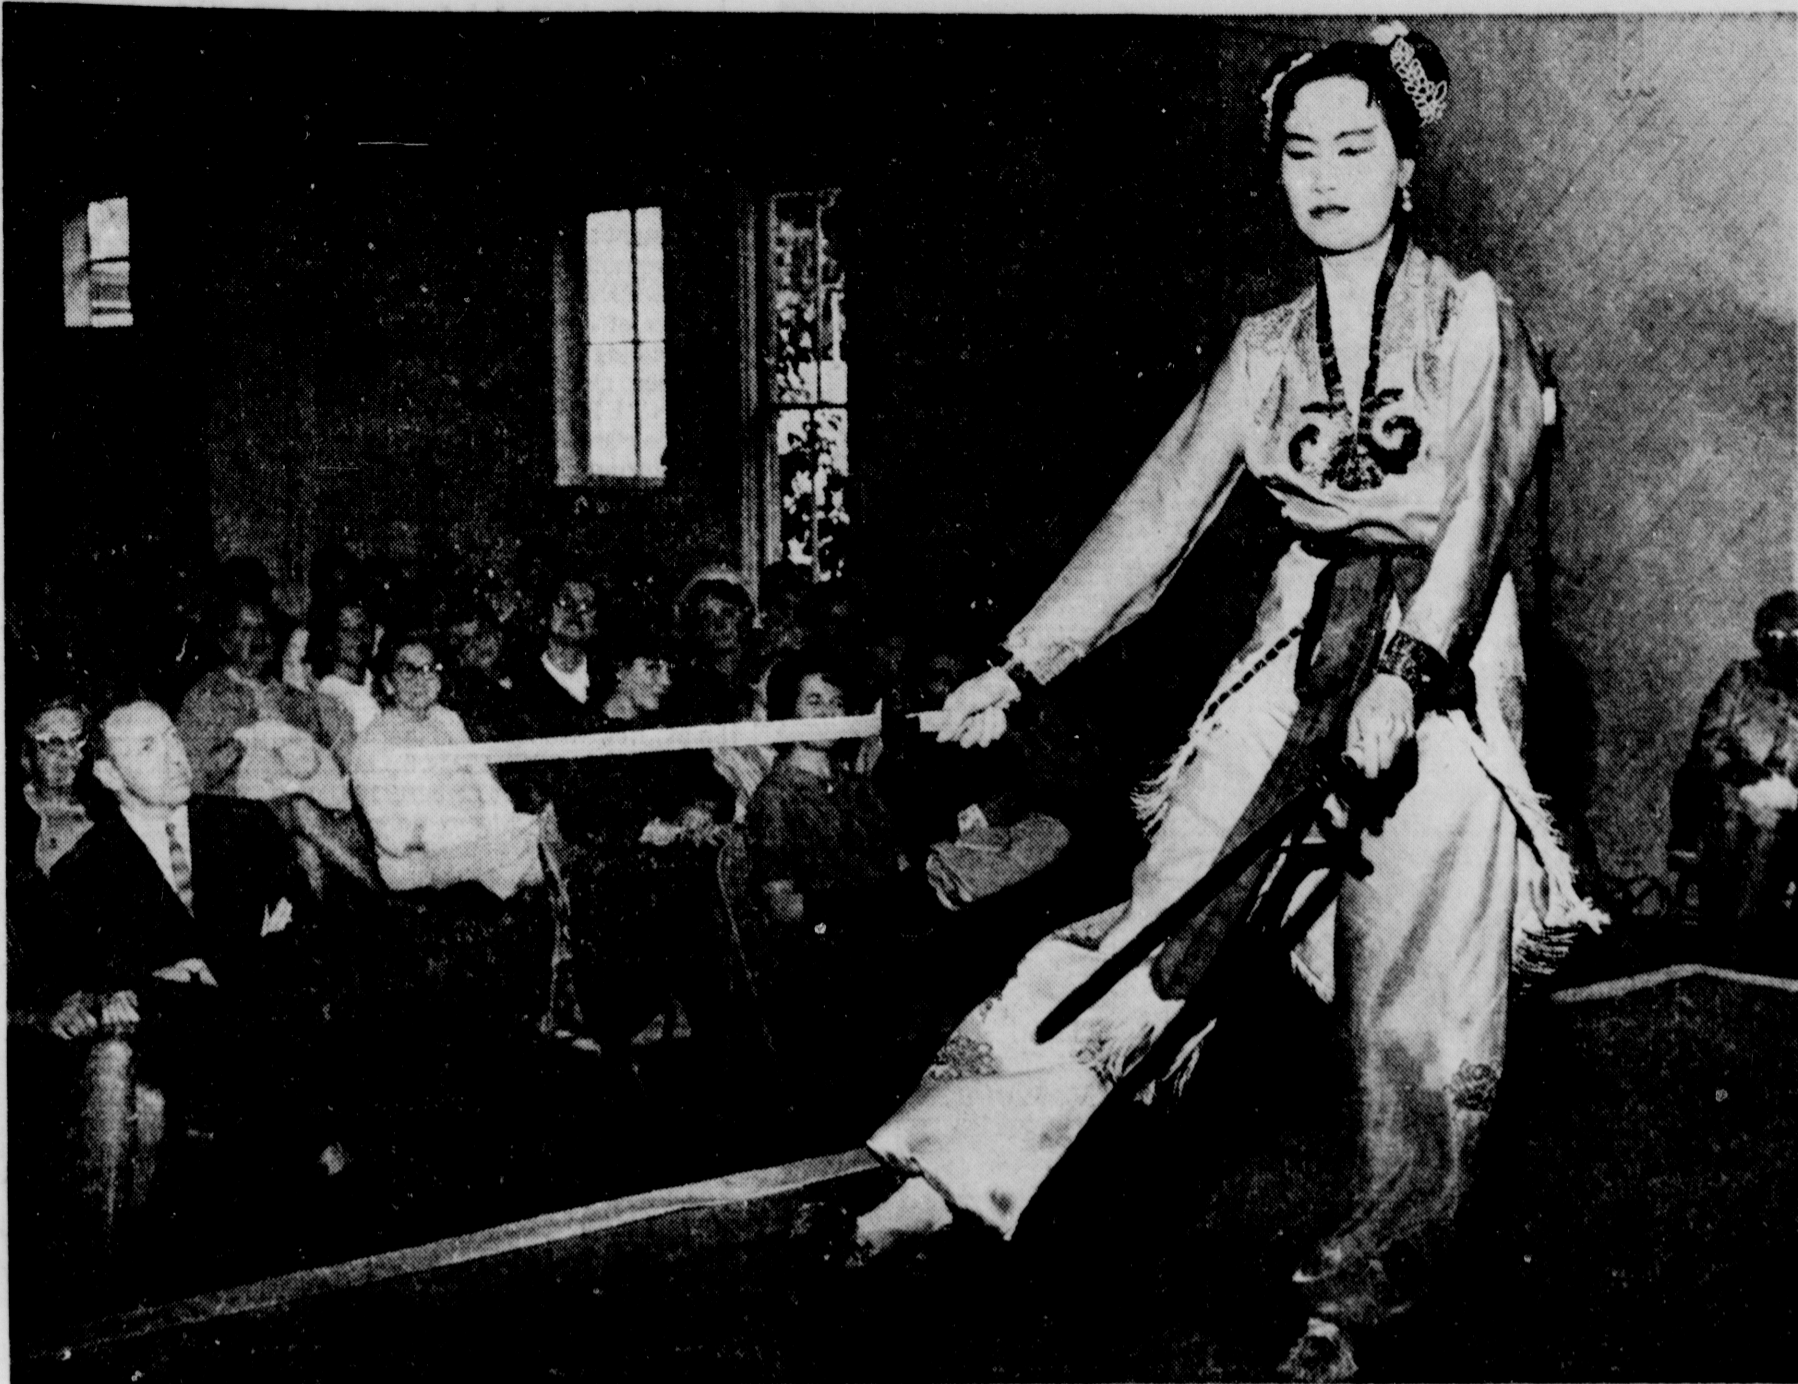

The ranch property is near the junction of the boundaries of Napa, Sonoma and Lake counties.

A new radio telescope—believed to be the largest of its kind—has been built by the U. S. government in Puerto Rico's rugged limestone hill country. It will be operated by Cornell University.

Rocky Is The Road Of Royal Romance

Why do royal romances so often become stormy matters of state as in the case of Holland's Princess Irene who has become engaged to a Spanish prince? This is the first of three dispatches on the pitfall such lovers face.

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — Someday your son or daughter will come home with a prospective bride or groom. And providing the affianced is acceptable the wedding will take place in due course.

But in a castle—ah, how complicated it all becomes. Consider the case of Princess Irene, 24, daughter of Queen Juliana of Holland who fell in love with Prince Hugo Carlos de Bourbon Parma, 33, pretender to the throne of Spain.

HE IS SPANISH—and royal inflicted the council of blood. Wasn't it the Spaniards who on the Netherlands about 400 years ago? Wasn't it a Spanish general who massacred the population of Naarden to a man? And sparkling along the centuries of his lineage isn't that pulpy ancestor with the perwig Louis the XIV of France? And Louis warred against Holland with the same tenacity as the Duke of Alva.

Spain was Catholic—so is Prince Carlos. Four hundred years is eternity to the average family but to a nation it is a riddle of pages in a history.

SO THE ANCIENT antagonisms simmer over a low flame ready to come to the boil at any time. And when Princess Irene left her Protestant faith to become a Catholic—the first in her family since the 16th century—the heat was on.

Princess Irene is one of four wholesome daughters of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard. They are a warm family with a friendly informality. When her parents say their first concern is the happiness of Irene they mean it.

Irene was second in line to the throne behind her sister, Crown Princess Beatrix, 26. She likes skiing, tennis, swimming and driving hot-rod automobiles but she has a serious and useful side. She is a qualified interpreter in Spanish and licensed to practice before the Dutch courts.

Last Jan. 10 she left for Spain to brush up on her Spanish but not to concentrate so wholeheartedly on the verb "amar"—to love. Not generally known then was that she had been received into the Catholic Church a month earlier.

FORTY PER CENT of the population of Holland is Catholic but the royal family has been Protestant since the days of "the Spanish fury" and when news of the conversion broke on Jan. 29 the central council of the Dutch Reformed Church expressed "deep regrets."

JOHN LEWIS JR. TO CLAIM BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Heydt Jr. of New York announce the engagement of their daughter, Sheila Huntington Heydt, to John Greenough Lewis Jr., son of Capt. U.S.N. (ret.) and Mrs. John Greenough Lewis of Ross.

Miss Heydt, who is a senior at Wheaton College, made her debut in 1960 in New York City.

John was graduated from the Thacher School in Ojai, and attends Brown University, where he is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Crawford Greene of Ross, and Mrs. Edison Lewis of Palo Alto and the late Mr. Lewis. He has a sister, Natalie, and two brothers, Edison and Stephen.

Said Juliana: "It was a personal decision."

Now there were swift developments. Among them were reports that Irene was in love with a Spanish nobleman and that her conversion was part of this romance.

The Dutch cabinet keeps a vigilant eye on its royal family and a government crisis began to build up over the conclusion that it had been left out. The conversion was one shock. Love with a Spaniard was another.

The Franco regime is not popular in Holland. And the rightist politics of Prince Carlos conflict with the liberal beliefs of the Dutch.

ON FEB. 4 Juliana broadcast to the nation as much as a mother as a queen. She said there had been "the happy possibility of an engagement . . . unfortunately we must tell you our daughter, Irene, informed us that this engagement will not take place."

"You will feel with us," she said, "that our daughter is now passing through an extremely difficult time."

But within 48 hours Irene changed her mind—or had it changed. Prince Bernhard flew Juliana to Paris in a royal plane while the royal standard was still flying over Soestdijk Palace which it is supposed to do only when the queen is in residence. When the cabinet discovered where the royal pair were it demanded they return—which they did.

THE NEXT DAY came the announcement that Irene was going to marry the man after all. But if the princess and her suitor thought true love would find a way over all obstacles they were wrong.

Two Rows Machine Stitches Help Make Gathers Evenly

By EUNICE FARMER

"I always have trouble getting gathers distributed evenly. Is there a helpful rule that applies to gathers?"—Mrs. M.E. Dear Mrs. M.:

I have found that by using two rows of machine stitching instead of one, it is easier to distribute the gathers more evenly. The real secret however, is learning to use a shorter machine stitch. I always make a sample stitching first since all fabrics differ due to the closeness of the weave. By using a shorter machine stitch, the fabric will remain in place after you have pulled it up, in this way it will be easier to space the gathers evenly.

In a larger area you may divide your total area in equal spaces, pull up the gathers to a certain measurement in one of the spaces and make them all identical.

"I'd like to pass along this little trick on how to keep well pockets (or any horizontal or diagonal ones) from sagging. They will often lie nice and flat while laying on the table, and then when hung up, the pockets will droop. To remedy this I put a strip of Velcro one-half inch wide and three inches long inside the mouth of the pocket; the other strip I place at the bottom of the welt.

"The Velcro doesn't adhere so firmly that it is bothersome to put your hand in, and yet, it keeps the pocket from sagging.

Plaids especially, will remain in line perfectly."

Mrs. S. Morton of Kenwood, Calif., is this week's winner of a tailor trix pressing board for this suggestion.

"One of my favorite outfits last summer was a silk overblouse with long sleeves that resembled a shirt-type jacket with a notched collar. This was worn over a sleeveless low-backed dress which served a duo purpose and became a very versatile ensemble. My problem arose when I wanted to remove the overblouse and since there was no opening to the hem, it had to be lifted over my head. This presented a rather clumsy and awkward problem.

"Is there any way to keep the same effect of this pattern and still have an invisible opening somewhere?"—Mrs. K.M.

Dear Mrs. K.M.: Until you mentioned this, I hadn't realized how this would limit the wearability of this very "new" look in jacket-type ensembles.

Even though your jacket had a notched collar, it is quite permissible to add a five-eighths inch seam allowance to the center back (including the collar when you are cutting the garment.

Insert a jacket-type zipper (with both ends open), to the back of your jacket, from the neckline seam to the lower hem. The collar ends would be finished with a regular seam and could be hooked together with very small hook and eye. Your overall effect will be the same, but it would be rather simple to take off whenever desired.

The following information on sewing with silk is in answer to your many inquiries due to spring and summer sewing which would certainly include silks.

You will need an extra sharp pair of scissors, and must avoid blunt needles and pins. With very fine silks, you may prefer pinning with No. 10 or 11 needles instead of pins. Do not use a tracing wheel for marking seams and darts. Do not machine baste for fitting; hand baste instead.

For a lining or underlining, you may use several fabrics, including a fine imported batiste, china silk type lining, or if you need a little shaping, silk organza works beautifully. For machine stitching, you may use silk thread which is considered preferable, however, unless you are a professional seamstress, I believe you'll have better luck using mercerized thread as I do. Length of machine stitching should not be too fine, possibly 10 to 12 stitches per inch.

To avoid seams that pucker, hold garment firmly and pull ever so slightly as you machine stitch. Do not use a steam iron for pressing except on heavier type silk suitings. For this type of silk, you may press with a chemically treated press cloth. Most silks press beautifully with a fairly hot iron on the wrong side of the silk.

If your silk is the heavier type weave such as handloomed suitings, the seams may need to be overcast to prevent raveling.

Please send your helpful sewing ideas to Sew Simple, in care of your paper. You may be a lucky winner of a handy tailor trix pressing board.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Feb. 17, the 48th day of 1964 with 318 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:
In 1817, for the first time in American history, a city street was illuminated by gas lights in Baltimore.

In 1906, Alice Roosevelt, eldest daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, was married in the East Room of the White House.

In 1936, the Supreme Court ruled in a test case that the Tennessee Valley Authority's Wilson Dam can sell electrical power, a major victory for the New Deal.

In 1944, American soldiers landed on the Japanese-held base of Eniwetok in the Marshall Islands.

A thought for the day — Irish playwright George Bernard Shaw once said: "We have no more right to consume happiness without producing it than to consume wealth without producing it."

Bridge Philosopher Defeats Contract In Today's Hand

Many a philosopher has spent his entire lifetime distinguishing between what is important and what is unimportant.

For bridge players the distinction is simple: the important tricks are those that have a bearing on the contract, and all other tricks are unimportant.

Bids To Be Opened On County Site

Bids will be opened tomorrow by the board of supervisors for sale of the old Coleman School site in San Rafael.

The county expects to receive at least $30,000 for the site, and the state has agreed to pay about 10 per cent of the purchase price for part of the property needed for widening Highway 101.

The board will also be shown preliminary plans of the first proposed project of extensive park development in recent years by Marin County Paradise Beach Park.

Landscape architect Asa Hanamoto will show the board the plans, which have been tentatively approved already by the County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Three major road construction bids will be called for if the supervisors approve plans to be submitted by Public Works Director Donald R. Frost. The largest project, to eliminate a dangerous curve, is expected to cost about $80,000.

A second project, replacement of a wooden bridge with a concrete one on Lagunitas Road, is expected to cost about $27,000. The other bid will be for a combined project of improving drainage on three county roads, Montecito Road, Trestle Glen Drive and Auburn Street.

Frost will also ask supervisors' approval on an application for approval by the State Public Utilities Commission to relocate a crossing of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on Civic Center Drive and on Mar West in Tiburon.

The change on Mar West will allow relocation of the road now blocked by a slide.

Formal action is expected complying with federal conditions of local participation to allow work to start soon on the Coyote Creek flood control project. Action will also be considered on maintaining an open right of way for eventual construction of the flood control project on Corte Madera Creek.

Answers to the county grand jury recommendations, put off twice by the board, will be considered at Tuesday's meeting also, as will a final decision on zoning for San Geronimo Valley.

Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell has asked for unanimous board approval of an ordinance setting minimum standards for any candidate for the elective office of county auditor. The standards, which require in effect, training as an accountant, were approved by four members of the board once before.

But, Mitchell says in a letter to the supervisors, state law requires unanimous approval of this ordinance.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, has asked that the new mental health director, when hired, be designated as county physician for purposes of deciding on emergency commitments in questionable cases of mental illness.

Dr. Albrecht has been serving as an "emergency psychiatrist," but says she is not trained for the job. The new director of mental health will be a psychiatrist.

Welfare Director Betty L. Presley, backed by Mitchell and County Administrator Alan Bruce, has asked board approval to join a new workmen's compensation insurance program designed to cover welfare recipients working for the county under the work training program.

He and his wife Joanne, and their five children, Stephen, Robert, Chris, Gregory and Carol, live at 291 South Circle Drive on the base.

College Tax Assist Class Is Scheduled

Tryouts for parts in the College of Marin's drama, "Kings, Queens and Knaves from Shakespeare," will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Room 1 of Harlan Hall.

The play will open on April 23 in celebration of Shakespeare's 400th birthday and then run April 24 and 25 and May 1, 2, 8 and 9. It will be preceded by a portion of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

County School Service Budget Due Discussion

The Marin County Board of Education will hold a special meeting tonight to consider the county school service fund budget to be submitted to the state and to consider applications for federal grants under the national defense education act.

The county school service fund, which deals with such programs as education of the blind, speech therapy, plus supervision, pupil personnel services such as that of a psychologist, the schools library, and coordination of projects, supported largely by the state.

The budget is drawn up by the board and submitted for approval. The state has the power to make changes in the budget before approving allocations of funds. This year's state grant was $245,924. Also included in the fund will be money contributed by the federal government for specific projects and by school districts which contract for specific services, such as teaching the deaf or mentally retarded.

Among requests to be submitted for federal funds this year will be pleas for money to purchase a tape duplicator and a moving picture film scanner.

The tape can reproduce, at high speed, four magnetic tapes from one master tape, thus cutting the costs of purchase of tape recordings for teaching such subjects as languages.

The county already has one film scanner, which checks films quickly for damage and flaws, and cleans film. One man can operate two machines, however, the extra machine is expected to make the operation more efficient.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the schools office at the Civic Center.

Maguire Plays

"Common Clay Court" and "You Can't Take It With You" are comedies to be presented this semester at Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School by students in literature classes of teacher George Muldoon. "Shirt Tail Boy," a play about Abe Lincoln as an adolescent, was given by these classes last week.
